Scrutiny of nominations.

19. On the date appointed by the Local Government for the scrutiny of nominations under sub-rule (2) of rule 11 the candidates, their election agents, one proposer and one seconder of each candidate, and one other person duly authorised in writing by each candidate, but no other person, may attend at such time and place as the returning officer may appoint, and the returning officer shall give them all reasonable facilities for examining the nomination papers of all candidates which have been delivered within the time and in the manner prescribed in rule 11.

20 (1). The returning officer shall then examine the nomination papers and shall decide all objections which may be made to any nomination, and may, either on such objection or on his own motion, after such summary inquiry, if any, as he thinks necessary, refuse any nomination on any of the following grounds :—

(i) that the candidate is ineligible for election under rule 5 or rule 6 ; or

(ii) that a proposer or seconder is disqualified from subscribing a nomination paper under sub-rule (4) of rule 11 ; or

(iii) that there has been any failure to comply with any of the provisions of rule 11 or rule 12 or

(iv) that the candidate or any proposer or seconder is not identical with the person whose electoral number is given in the nomination paper as the number of such candidate, proposer or seconder, as the case may be ; or

(v) that the signature of the candidate or any proposer or seconder, is not genuine or has been obtained by fraud.

(2) For the purposes of this regulation :—

(a) the production of any certified copy of an entry made in the electoral roll of any constituency shall be conclusive evidence of the right of any elector named in that entry to stand for election or to subscribe a nomination paper, as the case may be, unless it is proved that the candidate is disqualified under rule 5 or rule 6 or that the proposer or seconder, as the case may be, is disqualified under sub-rule (4) of rule 11, and

(b) where a person has subscribed whether as proposer or seconder a larger number of nomination papers than there are vacancies to be filled, those of the papers so subscribed which have been first received, up to the number of vacancies to be filled, shall be deemed to be valid.

(3) Nothing contained in clause (ii), clause (iii), clause (iv), or clause (v) of sub-regulation (1) shall be deemed to authorise the refusal of the nomination of any candidate on the ground of any irregularity in respect of a nomination paper, if the candidate has been duly nominated by means of another nomination paper in respect of which no irregularity has been committed.

21. (1) The returning officer shall endorse on each nomination paper his decision accepting or rejecting the same and, if the nomination paper is rejected, shall record in writing a brief statement of his reasons for such rejection.

(2) The scrutiny shall be completed on the day appointed in this behalf under clause (b) of sub-rule (2) of rule 11 and no adjournment of the proceedings shall be allowed.

22. On completion of the scrutiny of nominations and after the expiry of the period within which candidatures may be withdrawn under sub-rule (8) of rule 11, the returning officer shall forthwith prepare a list of valid nominations and cause it to be affixed in some conspicuous place in his office.

23. If the number of duly nominated candidates is greater than the number of vacancies the returning officer shall forthwith publish in the local official Gazette, and in such other manner as the Local Government may prescribe, and in such places in the constituency as he may consider necessary, the names of the candidates as given in the nomination papers in alphabetical order.

Voting.

24. The Local Government shall appoint the hour at which the poll shall commence and the hour at which it shall close on the date appointed for the poll under clause (c) of sub-rule (2) of rule 11. The hours so fixed shall be published by notification in the local official Gazette, and in such other manner as the Local Government may direct.

25. (1) The returning officer shall select for each constituency as many polling stations as he thinks necessary and shall publish, in such manner as the Local Government may prescribe, a list showing the polling stations so selected, and the polling areas for which they have respectively been selected.

(2) The returning officer shall appoint a presiding officer for each polling station and such other persons (hereinafter referred to as polling officers) to assist the presiding officer as he thinks necessary.

26. (1) The presiding officer shall keep order at the polling station, shall see that the election is fairly conducted, shall regulate the number of electors to be admitted at one time, and shall exclude all other persons except—

(a) the polling officers, the candidates, and one agent of each candidate (hereinafter referred to as the polling agent) appointed in writing by the candidate, and authorised in this behalf by the returning officer,

(b) the police or other public servants on duty, and

(c) such other persons as the presiding officer may from time to time admit for the purpose of identifying electors.

(2) The presiding officer shall close the polling station at the hour appointed in that behalf by the Local Government under Regulation 24, so as to prevent the admission thereto of any voter after that hour, provided that all voters present at the polling station before it is so closed shall be entitled to have their votes recorded.

27. Each polling station shall be furnished with such number of compartments, in which voters can record their votes screened from observation, as the returning officer thinks necessary.

28. (1) The returning officer shall provide at each polling station materials sufficient for the purpose of enabling voters to mark the ballot papers, instruments for stamping the official mark on such papers, as many ballot boxes as may be necessary, and copies of the electoral roll or of such part thereof as contains the names of the electors entitled to vote at such station.

(2) The official mark shall be kept secret, and a period of not less than seven years shall intervene between the use of the same official mark at elections for the same constituency.

29. Every ballot box shall be so constructed that the ballot papers can be introduced therein, but cannot be withdrawn therefrom, without the box being unlocked. The presiding officer at any polling station, immediately before the commencement of the poll, shall show the ballot box empty to such persons as may be present in such station, so that they may see that it is empty, and shall then lock it up, and place his seal upon it in such manner as to prevent its being opened without breaking such seal, and shall place it in his view for the receipt of ballot papers and keep it so locked and sealed.

30. Before the polling station is open for the recording of votes, the presiding officer shall read to such persons as may be present the provisions of section 14 of the Indian Election Offences and Inquiries Act, 1920, and shall explain the substance thereof in the vernacular of the district.

31. Immediately before a ballot paper is delivered to an elector, it shall be marked on the back with the official mark, and the number, name and description of the elector as stated in the electoral roll shall be called out, and the number of the elector shall be entered on the counterfoil, and a mark shall be placed in a copy of the electoral roll against the number of the elector, to denote that he has received a ballot paper, but without showing the particular ballot paper which he has received. On the counterfoil shall be entered the name of the constituency and the name or distinctive number of the polling station.

32. The elector, on receiving the ballot paper, shall forthwith proceed into one of the compartments in the polling station, and there make a mark on the ballot paper against the name of the candidate or candidates for whom he intends to vote in accordance with the instructions set out on the back of the outerfoil paper, and fold it up so as to conceal his vote, and, after shewing to the presiding officer the official mark, shall put his ballot paper, so folded up, into the ballot box. Every elector shall vote without undue delay and shall quit the polling station as soon as he has put his ballot paper into the ballot box.

33. If the voter, owing to illiteracy or infirmity, is unable to read a ballot paper or to make a mark thereon the presiding officer shall mark the vote in the ballot paper according to the direction of the voter. The voter shall then himself or with the assistance of the presiding officer put the ballot paper folded up into the ballot box.

34. At any time before a ballot paper is delivered to an elector, the presiding officer or polling officer may, of his own accord, if he has reason to doubt the identity of the elector or his right to vote at such station, and shall, if so required by a candidate or polling agent, put to the elector the following questions:—

(1) Are you the person enrolled as follows (reading the whole entry from the roll)? and,

(2) Have you already voted at the present election in this constituency? and, at a general election

(3) Have you already voted at this general election for the Legislative Assembly in any other general constituency?

and the elector shall not be supplied with a ballot paper if he refuses to answer any one of the questions and unless he answers the first question in the affirmative, the second question in the negative, and, at a general election, the third question also in the negative.

35. The ballot paper shall be in Form I annexed to these regulations and shall contain the names of the candidates arranged alphabetically in the order of their surnames. The ballot papers shall be serially numbered, the serial number being printed on the face of the counterfoil and on the back of the ballot paper.

36. If a person representing himself to be a particular elector named on the electoral roll applies for a ballot paper after another person has voted as such elector, the applicant shall, after duly answering such questions as the presiding officer may ask, be entitled to mark a ballot paper in the same manner as any other voter. Such ballot paper (hereinafter referred to as a "tendered ballot paper)" shall be of a colour different from the other ballot papers, and, instead of being put into the ballot box, shall be given to the presiding officer and endorsed by him with the name of the voter and his number on the electoral roll and the name of the electoral area to which the roll relates and shall be set aside in a separate packet and shall not be counted by the returning officer. The name of the voter and his number in the electoral roll and the name or distinctive number of the polling station to which the roll relates shall be entered in a list in Form II annexed to these regulations, which shall bear the heading "Tendered votes list." The person tendering such ballot paper shall sign his name and address thereon or affix his thumb impression against the entry in that list.

37. If any polling agent declares and undertakes to prove that any person by applying for a ballot paper has committed the offence of personation, the presiding officer may require such person to enter in the list of challenged votes (which shall be in Form III annexed to these regulations) his name and address, or, if he is unable to write, to affix his thumb impression thereto and may further require such person to produce evidence of identification. If such person on being questioned in the manner provided in Regulation 34 answers the first question in the affirmative and the other questions in the negative, he shall be allowed to vote after he has been informed of the penalty for personation. The presiding officer shall make a note of the circumstances, and of his decision on the list of challenged votes.

38. A voter who has inadvertently dealt with his ballot paper in such a manner that it cannot conveniently be used as a ballot paper may, on delivering it to the presiding officer and satisfying him of the inadvertence, obtain another ballot paper in place of the spoilt paper, and the latter shall, together with its counterfoil, be marked as cancelled.

39. A presiding officer, polling officer or polling agent who is on duty at a polling station at which he is not entitled to vote shall, if he is certified by the returning officer of the constituency in which he is entitled to vote to be entitled to vote at the election for the constituency in connection with which he is employed or for any other constituency, be allowed to record his vote at that polling station. The name of the polling station at which he would otherwise have been entitled to vote shall be entered in the counterfoil of the ballot paper together with his number in the electoral roll for the constituency in which that polling station is situated.

40. Such ballot paper shall be placed in an envelope and sealed by the presiding officer and returned with the certificate referred to in Regulation 39 to the returning officer who has granted the same, and such returning officer shall cause such vote to be included among the other votes given for the candidate designated by the voter.

41. The presiding officer of each polling station, as soon as practicable after the close of the poll, shall, in the presence of any candidates or polling agents who may be present, make up into separate parcels and seal with his own seal and the seal of such candidates or agents as may desire to affix their seal :—

and shall deliver such packets to the returning officer.

42. The packets shall be accompanied by a statement in Form IV made by the presiding officer, showing the number of ballot papers entrusted to him, and accounting for them under the heads of ballot papers in the ballot box, unused, spoilt, and tendered ballot papers, and ballot papers dealt with under Regulation 39.

Counting of votes.

43. The returning officer shall as soon as may be practicable after the close of the poll, appoint a date, time and place for the counting of votes and shall give notice in writing thereof to all candidates and election agents.

44. (1) No person shall be allowed to be present at the counting of the votes except the returning officer and such persons as he may appoint to assist him in counting the votes, and such other persons as have a right to be present under sub-rule (6) of rule 14.

(2) No person shall be appointed to assist in counting the votes, who has been employed by or on behalf of any candidate for any purpose whatsoever connected with the election.

45. On the day and at the time appointed under Regulation 43 the returning officer shall, before he commences to count the votes, read the provisions of section 14 of the Indian Election Offences and Inquiries Act, 1920, to such persons as may be present, and shall then proceed as follows :—

(a) The ballot box or boxes relating to each polling station shall be opened one after another, and the returning officer shall take out the papers therefrom, count them or cause them to be counted, and record the number thereof in a statement. Such statement shall not be shewn to any candidate or agent.

(b) The returning officer shall then mix together all the ballot papers so taken out from the ballot boxes and distribute them in convenient bundles to the persons appointed to assist in counting the votes.

(c) When the ballot papers have been so distributed, but not before the returning officer shall allow the candidates and their agents reasonable opportunity to inspect, without handling, the ballot papers, and shall on every ballot paper which is wholly or partially rejected endorse the word "rejected." If any candidate or agent present questions the correctness of the rejection, he shall also record on the ballot paper the grounds for the rejection. No candidate or agent shall be allowed to see the serial number on the back of any ballot paper.

(d) The returning officer shall, as far as practicable, proceed continuously with the counting of the votes; and shall, during any necessary intervals during which the counting has to be suspended, place the ballot papers, packets and other documents relating to the election under his own seal and the seals of such candidates, or agents as may desire to affix them, and shall cause adequate precautions to be taken for their custody.

46. (1) A ballot paper shall be rejected if—

(a) it has not on its back the official mark,

(b) the number of votes recorded thereon exceeds the number of vacancies to be filled,

(c) no vote is recorded thereon,

(d) it is void for uncertainty,

(e) it bears any mark by which the elector can be identified.

(2) The decision of the returning officer as to the validity of a ballot paper shall be final, subject only to reversal on an election petition claiming the seat.

47. The returning officer shall not open the sealed packets of the tendered votes, the marked copy of the electoral roll or the counterfoils of the ballot papers. He shall verify the statement submitted by the presiding officer under Regulation 42 by comparing it with the number of counted votes and rejected ballot papers, the unused ballot papers in his possession and the tendered votes list, shall then reclose and reseal each packet which has been opened by him, and shall record on each packet a description of its contents and date of the election to which it refers.

48. The returning officer shall then prepare and certify a return setting forth—

55. Any ballot paper which is not duly marked, or on which more than one mark is placed against any candidate's name, or on which votes are given to more candidates than there are members to be elected, or on which a mark is placed in such a manner as to make it doubtful to which candidate it has been given, shall be invalid.

56. (1) The returning officer shall appoint a date, time and place for the counting of votes, and shall give notice thereof in writing to the candidates.

(2) On the day appointed the returning officer shall—

(a) after scrutiny, separate, or cause to be separated, the ballot papers which he deems valid from those which he rejects, endorsing on the latter the word "rejected" and the ground of rejection;

(b) count, or cause to be counted, the votes given to each candidate, and declare the candidate, or candidates, with the largest number of valid votes to be elected;

61. The elector shall then proceed to a place set apart for that purpose by the attesting officer, and screened from observation, and there shall record his vote on the ballot paper in accordance with the instructions contained therein, and after placing the ballot paper in an envelope, and closing the same, shall deliver it to the attesting officer.

62. If an elector is unable to read or write, or by reason of some physical defect is incapacitated from recording his vote, the attesting officer shall assist him in such manner as may be necessary to mark the ballot paper and to sign the declaration thereon.

63. Provided that a paper shall be deemed to be a non-transferable paper in any case in which—

(a) the names of two or more candidates (whether continuing or not) are marked with the same figure, and are next in order of preference; or

(b) the name of the candidate next in order of preference (whether continuing or not) is marked—

74. The returning officer shall then divide the total number of valid papers by a number exceeding by one the number of vacancies to be filled, and the result increased by one, disregarding any fractional remainder, shall be the number of votes sufficient to secure the return of a candidate (hereinafter called the " quota ").

75. If at any time the number of votes credited to a candidate is equal to or greater than the quota, that candidate shall be declared elected.

76. (1) If at any time the number of votes credited to a candidate is greater than the quota, the surplus shall be transferred in accordance with the provisions of this regulation to the continuing candidates indicated on the ballot papers in the parcel of the elected candidate, as being next in order of the voters' preference.

(2) (a) If the votes credited to an elected candidate consist of original votes only, the returning officer shall examine all the papers in the parcel of the elected candidate whose surplus is to be transferred, and shall arrange the transferable papers in sub-parcels according to the next preferences recorded thereon.

(b) If the votes credited to an elected candidate consist of original and transferred votes, or of transferred votes only, the returning officer shall examine the papers contained in the sub-parcel last received by the elected candidate and shall arrange the transferable papers therein in further sub-parcels according to the next preferences recorded thereon.

(c) In either case the returning officer shall make a separate sub-parcel of the non-transferable papers and shall ascertain the number of papers in each sub-parcel of transferable papers and in the sub-parcel of non-transferable papers.

(3) If the total number of papers in the sub-parcels of transferable papers is equal to or less than the surplus, the returning officer shall transfer each sub-parcel of transferable papers to the continuing candidate indicated thereon as the voters' next preference.

(4) (a) If the total number of transferable papers is greater than the surplus, the returning officer shall transfer from each sub-parcel the number of papers which bears the same proportion to the number of papers in the sub-parcel as the surplus bears to the total number of transferable papers.

(b) The number of papers to be transferred from each sub-parcel shall be ascertained by multiplying the number of papers in the sub-parcel by the surplus and dividing the result by the total number of transferable papers. A note shall be made of the fractional parts, if any, of each number so ascertained.

(c) If, owing to the existence of such fractional parts, the number of papers to be transferred is less than the surplus, so many of these fractional parts taken in the order of their magnitude, beginning with the largest, as are necessary to make the total number of papers to be transferred equal to the surplus, shall be reckoned as of the value of unity, and the remaining fractional parts shall be ignored.

If two or more fractional parts are of equal magnitude, that fractional part shall be deemed to be the larger which arises from the larger sub-parcel, and if the sub-parcels in question are equal in size, preference shall be given to the candidate who obtained the larger number of original votes.

(d) The particular papers to be transferred from each sub-parcel shall be those last filed in the sub-parcel.

(e) Each paper transferred shall be marked in such a manner as to indicate the candidate from and to whom the transfer is made.

(5) (a) If more than one candidate has a surplus, the largest surplus shall be first dealt with.

(b) If two or more candidates have each the same surplus, regard shall be had to the number of original votes obtained by each candidate, and the surplus of the candidate credited with the largest number of original votes shall be first dealt with, and, if the numbers of the original votes are equal, the returning officer shall decide which surplus he will first deal with.

(c) The returning officer need not transfer the surplus of an elected candidate when that surplus, together with any other surplus not transferred, does not exceed the difference between the totals of the votes credited to the two continuing candidates lowest on the poll.

77. (1) If at any time no candidate has a surplus (or when under the preceding rule any existing surplus need not be transferred) and one or more vacancies remain unfilled, the returning officer shall exclude from the poll the candidate credited with the lowest number of votes, and shall examine all the papers of that candidate, and shall arrange the transferable papers in sub-parcels according to the next preferences recorded thereon for continuing candidates, and shall transfer each sub-parcel to the candidate for whom that preference is recorded.

(2) If the total of the votes of the two or more candidates lowest on the poll, together with any surplus votes not transferred, is less than the votes credited to the next highest candidate, the returning officer may in one operation exclude those candidates from the poll and transfer their votes in accordance with the preceding regulation.

(3) If, when a candidate has to be excluded under this regulation, two or more candidates have each the same number of votes and are lowest on the poll, regard shall be had to the number of original votes credited to each of those candidates, and the candidate with the fewest original votes shall be excluded, and, where the numbers of the original votes are equal, regard shall be had to the total number of votes credited to those candidates at the first transfer at which they had an unequal number of votes, and the candidate with the lowest number of votes at that transfer shall be excluded, and, where the numbers of votes credited to those candidates were equal at all transfers, the returning officer shall decide which shall be excluded.

78. (1) Whenever any transfer is made under any of the preceding regulations, each sub-parcel of papers transferred shall be added to the parcel, if any, of papers of the candidate to whom the transfer is made, and that candidate shall be credited with one vote in respect of each paper transferred. Such papers as are not transferred shall be set aside as finally dealt with, and the votes given thereon shall thenceforth not be taken into account.

(2) If after any transfer a candidate has a surplus, that surplus shall be dealt with in accordance with and subject to the provisions contained in Regulation 77 before any other candidate is excluded.

79. (1) When the number of continuing candidates is reduced to the number of vacancies remaining unfilled, the continuing candidates shall be declared elected.

(2) When only one vacancy remains unfilled, and the votes of some one continuing candidate exceed the total of all the votes of the other continuing candidates, together with any surplus not transferred, that candidate shall be declared elected.

(3) When the last vacancies can be filled under this regulation, no further transfer of votes need be made.

80. Any candidate, or his duly authorized representative in his absence, may, at any time during the counting of the votes, either before the commencement or after the completion of any transfer of votes (whether surplus or otherwise), request the returning officer to re-examine and recount the papers of all or any candidates (not being papers set aside at any previous transfer as finally dealt with), and the returning officer shall forthwith re-examine and recount the same accordingly. The returning officer may also at his discretion recount votes either once or more often in any case in which he is not satisfied as to the accuracy of any previous count:

Provided that nothing herein shall make it obligatory on the returning officer to recount the same votes more than once.

81. (1) The returning officer shall not open the sealed packets of the tendered votes, the marked copy of the electoral roll or the counterfoils of the ballot papers. He shall verify the statement submitted by the presiding officer under Regulation 42 by comparing it with the number of counted votes and rejected ballot papers, the unused ballot papers in his possession and the tendered votes list, shall then reclose and reseal each packet which has been opened by him, seal up in separate packets the counted and rejected ballot papers, and record on each packet a description of its contents, the name of the constituency and the date of the election to which it refers.

(2) The returning officer shall prepare and certify a return setting forth—

(i) the number of valid votes given to each candidate,

(ii) the number of votes declared invalid and rejected,

(iii) the number of tendered ballot papers issued to electors as shown in the ballot paper account,

(iv) the names of the persons declared elected ;

and permit any candidate or representative duly authorised under sub-rule (6) of rule 14 to take a copy of or an extract from the return.

Dacca, the 22nd August 1923.

MONTHLY WEATHER AND CROP REPORT OF BENGAL FOR JULY 1923.

I. Character of the season.—During the month under review the rainfall was defective generally throughout the Presidency, specially in the Eastern Bengal districts. The fall was, however, above the average in the 24-Parganas, Khulna, Burdwan, Bankura, Hooghly, Howrah, Jalpaiguri, Darjeeling, Malda, Bakarganj and Chittagong. The usual rainfall statement is appended.

II. Progress of agricultural operations.—Transplantation of winter paddy was well advanced in certain North Bengal districts and elsewhere it progressed slowly. In Mymensingh, Rangpur and Khulna want of rain or lowness of the rivers is retarding both steeping of jute and transplantation of aman paddy. The rainfall towards the latter part of the month facilitated the operation a good deal, especially in the western districts. More rain, however, was needed in the highland tracts. Reaping of autumn paddy, cutting, steeping and washing of jute were making progress in the Eastern Bengal districts, but lowness of the rivers caused difficulty in parts of Mymensingh and elsewhere as already described.

III. State of standing crops.—The condition of sugarcane and deep-water paddy was satisfactory and that of autumn crops was generally reported to be fair. The rainfall towards the latter part of the month helped the growth of the standing crops.

IV. Prospects and probable outturn.—Harvesting of autumn crops was going on. A fair to satisfactory outturn is anticipated for the Presidency as a whole. The prospects of broadcast winter rice are promising.

V. Damage to standing crops.—Damage to jute by insect-pests was reported from several districts. Standing crops were also reported to have been damaged by excessive rains and floods in parts of Jalpaiguri, Bakarganj and Chittagong.

VI. Condition of agricultural stock.—The condition of live-stock was reported to be fair. Sporadic cases of cattle-disease were, however, reported from sixteen districts.

VII. Failure of pasturage and fodder.—Insufficiency of fodder was reported only from one police-station of the Pabna district.

VIII. Prices of food-grains.—During the second-half of the month the price of common rice of the cheapest quality rose in ten districts, fell in five and remained stationary in the rest. The prices varied from 6½ seers a rupee at Bogra to 9½ seers a rupee at Rajshahi.

IX. Condition of agricultural people.—The condition of the agricultural population was generally reported to be fair.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE POLICE ADMINISTRATION IN THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA AND ITS SUBURBS FOR THE YEAR 1922.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

CALCUTTA, THE 25TH AUGUST 1923.

RESOLUTION—No. 2611Pl.

READ—

The Report on the Police Administration in the town of Calcutta and its suburbs for the year 1922.

The office of the Commissioner of Police was held throughout the year by Sir Reginald Clarke, KT., C.I.E.

2. There was an increase in the number of reported offences mainly under local and special laws, greater attention having been paid to infractions of municipal regulations and to breaches of the Cruelty to Animals and Hackney-carriage Acts. No grave case of rioting occurred, and the number of less serious disturbances of the peace declined slightly. Though seven dacoities were reported against four in the previous year, offences against property were not so numerous on the whole, and though the value of property stolen was higher than before, a larger percentage of it was recovered by the police. The prevalence of robbery throughout the year continued to be a disquieting feature. Fewer cases were reported, it is true, but the total still remained abnormally high in spite of the more vigorous preventive action by which security was taken from 659 persons as against 589 in the previous year. There has been a considerable improvement since the power of ordering hooligans out of the metropolitan area or the province was conferred by the passing of the Goonda Act in March last. In the first six months of the year, 45 cases of robbery were reported as compared with 140 in 1922, and most of these occurred in the early part of the year before the Act was passed. Orders of removal have been passed against thirty-two goondas, while a number of others have left in order to avoid action being taken against them. In the short period during which the Act has been in existence, robbery and other forms of hooliganism have naturally not been entirely stamped out and occurrences take place, not always the work of the "goonda" class, on which public attention is apt to be focussed, but the enforcement of the Act together with a system of police patrols in areas where crime is prevalent has on the whole produced satisfactory results.

3. The registration of vehicles and the problems of traffic control continued to absorb an increasing amount of attention. Endeavours to maintain a reasonable standard in public vehicles were reflected in the largely decreased number of new taxi-cabs registered and professional licenses issued, the policy being to weed out unserviceable conveyances and to enforce a type in accordance with the revised rules. The income of the Hackney Carriage branch did not cover the expenditure incurred on it. A certain reduction in the cost of its administration has since been effected, and the question is under consideration of reducing the cost still further and at the same time adding to the fee income with a view to the attainment of financial equilibrium.

The number of persons killed and injured in accidents caused by motor vehicles declined from 1,422 in 1921 to 974. These figures show an improvement, but after making due allowance for the number of vehicles of all kinds and the congested condition of certain thoroughfares, Government cannot but hold that reckless driving is much too prevalent and is an evil which must be sternly checked.

4. The only buildings constructed during the year were some staff quarters at the new Police Hospital at Bhowanipur. For financial reasons progress with other schemes was impossible and the problem of accommodation remains unsolved, and is indeed becoming more and more difficult. As the Commissioner points out, the heavy rent-roll is increasing from year to year, for in many cases Government have no choice but to accept the accommodation available, however unsuitable, at the high rates demanded. The seriousness of the resulting situation is fully realized by Government, but adequate amelioration seems feasible only by means of a loan from which a building programme could be financed. The possibility of obtaining such a loan is again under consideration, while projects are being worked out for the provision of Government buildings at suitable centres to house the police-stations together with the investigating and patrol staff, so as to replace most of the houses at present hired at high rents. Such a measure would provide police-stations accessible to the public, and would promote the health, efficiency and discipline of the force.

5. The year opened with the non-co-operation campaign in full blast. Deliberate defiance by certain sections of the population, of the orders prohibiting meetings and processions, seditious speeches and writings in which the police were subjected to vilification and the picketting of shops accompanied by intimidation produced most trying conditions in which the police maintained order with commendable loyalty and restraint. Normal conditions were gradually restored, and in spite of spasmodic attempts later to revive a waning agitation, the closing period of the year was without incident. All ranks acquitted themselves well throughout an exacting time, and the Governor in Council congratulates Sir Reginald Clarke and his force on another year of duty well done. He has also read with pleasure the list of officers whose individual services have been brought to notice by the Commissioner.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, the Chief Presidency Magistrate, Calcutta, and the Commissioner of the Presidency Division for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the resolution and a copy of the report be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department.

Ordered also that the resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

ORDER.

IT is ordered with the approval of the Governor General in Council that the following Chapter XIII A containing rules as to summary procedure in suits to recover debts or liquidated demands or for immoveable property be added to Chapter XIII, and rule 6 of Chapter XVI of "The Rules of the High Court, 1914" be amended by prefixing the words "Subject to the provisions of Chapter XIII A" with effect from the 12th day of November 1923 :—

CHAPTER XIII A.

SUMMARY PROCEDURE IN SUITS TO RECOVER DEBTS OR LIQUIDATED DEMANDS OR FOR IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY.

1. The provisions of this Chapter shall not be applicable save to suits—

(A) in which the plaintiff seeks to recover a debt or liquidated demand in money payable by the defendant with or without interest arising—

(i) on a contract express or implied ; or

(ii) on an enactment where the sum sought to be recovered is a fixed sum of money or in the nature of a debt other than a penalty ; or

(iii) on a guarantee where the claim against the principal is in respect of a debt or a liquidated demand only ; or

(iv) on a trust ; or

(B) for the recovery of immoveable property with or without a claim for rent or mesne profits by a landlord against a tenant whose term has expired or has been duly determined by notice to quit or has become liable to forfeiture for non-payment of rent or against persons claiming under such tenant.

2. A plaintiff shall not be precluded from proceeding under this Chapter by reason of the fact that the suit might have been brought under the provisions of Order 37 of the Code of Civil Procedure, but this Chapter shall not be applicable to suits which have been instituted under the said Order.

3. Where the defendant in any suit which is within the terms of rule 1 has entered appearance, the plaintiff may, as regards any claim which is within the terms of rule 1, on affidavit made by himself or by any other person who can swear positively to the facts verifying the cause of action and the amount claimed, if any, and stating that in his belief there is no defence to the claim, apply to the Judge for final judgment for the amount claimed together with interest, if any, or for the recovery of the land (with or without rent or mesne profits) as the case may be and costs :

Provided that as against any defendant who has filed a Written Statement such application shall not be permissible unless the summons is taken out as in rule 4 mentioned within ten days after the entering of appearance.

4. The application by the plaintiff for judgment under rule 3 shall be made by summons returnable not less than seven clear days after service accompanied by a copy of the plaint and affidavit.

5. (a) The defendant may show cause against such application by affidavit.

(b) The affidavit shall state whether the defence alleged goes to the whole or to part only and (if so) to what part of the plaintiff's claim and shall deal specifically with all matters of fact.

(c) The Judge may, if he thinks fit, order the defendant, or in the case of Corporation any Officer thereof, to attend and be examined upon oath or to produce any lease, deed, book or document or copy of or extract therefrom.

6. Upon such application the Judge may, unless the defendant by affidavit or otherwise as the Judge may direct shall satisfy him that he has a good defence to the claim on its merits or disclose such facts as may be deemed sufficient to entitle him to defend, make an order refusing leave to defend and forthwith pronounce judgment in favour of the plaintiff.

7. If it appears to the Judge that any defendant has a good defence to or ought to be permitted to defend the claim and that any other defendant has not such defence and ought not to be permitted to defend, the former may be permitted to defend and the plaintiff shall be entitled to judgment against the latter, and may issue execution upon a decree to be drawn up pursuant to such judgment without prejudice to his right to proceed with his claim against the former.

8. If it appears that the defence set up by the defendant applies only to a part of the plaintiff's claim, or that any part of his claim is admitted, the plaintiff may have judgment forthwith for such part of his claim as the defence does not apply to or is admitted, subject to such terms, if any, as to suspending execution or payment into Court or costs or otherwise as the Judge may think fit and the defendant may be allowed to defend as to the residue of the plaintiff's claim.

9. Leave to defend may be given unconditionally or subject to such terms as to giving security, or time, or mode of trial or otherwise as the Judge may think fit.

10. In all cases the Judge shall have power to give directions as to the further conduct of the suit.

11. The costs of and incidental to all applications made under this Chapter shall be dealt with by the Judge on the hearing of the application, who shall order by and to whom and when the same shall be paid or may reserve them to the Court at the trial: Provided that in the latter case, if no trial afterwards takes place or no order as to costs is made, the costs are to be costs in the cause.

12. Upon the hearing of an application under this chapter the suit may, with the consent of the parties, be finally disposed of in a summary manner without right of appeal or referred to such officer and upon such terms as the Judge shall approve.

13. For the purposes of procedure under this Chapter any right to relief against forfeiture shall be deemed to be matter of defence, and upon the hearing of the application for judgment under rule 3 the Judge may, if he shall think fit, determine whether and upon what terms such relief shall be granted.

A judgment for recovery of land given under this Chapter on the ground of forfeiture for non-payment of rent shall have the same effect upon any right to such relief as if the judgment had been given after trial.

14. A special list shall be kept for the trial of causes in which leave to defend has been given under this Chapter, and in which the Judge is of opinion that a prolonged trial will not be requisite; and the Judge may at any time if he thinks it advisable order any such suit to be put into such list. All suits on such list shall be treated as Short Causes.

15. Unless the Judge otherwise directs the costs of one Advocate will on taxation between party and party, or as between attorney and client, be allowed to the plaintiff and to each set of defendants having divergent interests.

RESOLUTION.

No. S.-412.

STORES.

Dated Simla, the 20th August 1923.

In their memorandum No. 1885-R.-S., dated the 4th August 1913, the Railway Board referred to the organizations, namely, the office of the Superintendent of Local Manufactures and Government Test House and the Metallurgical Inspectorate, which had been constituted at Calcutta and Sakchi (renamed Jamshedpur), respectively, for the testing and inspection of various descriptions of materials, and published two schedules of the charges which it had been decided to levy for the carrying out of test and inspections by those organizations.

2. During the past nine years the position has undergone marked changes. The office of the Superintendent of Local Manufactures and Government Test House has recently been entirely reconstituted. Inspection as distinct from testing work has been withdrawn from that organization and is now undertaken by a separate agency, styled the Inspection Circle, Calcutta, in charge of a Controller of Inspection. The testing work continues to be carried out at the Government Test House, which is now under the control of an officer designated the Superintendent of the Government Test House, Alipore. The Test House has, moreover, been considerably enlarged and equipped with a strong staff of experts and with a varied assortment of machinery and plant. The Metallurgical Inspectorate has also been developed in respect of expert personnel, equipment and testing accommodation and like the other two organizations named, is in a position to carry out various descriptions of tests and inspections covering a wide range of materials. All three organizations form part of the Indian Stores Department. The experience acquired during recent years has indicated that the existing scales of charges are not sufficiently comprehensive and are in other respects unsuited to the present conditions, and after a careful examination of the matter the Government of India have decided to substitute for the existing schedules the two revised schedules appended hereto, namely :—

(i) A schedule of charges for testing and inspection of the local manufactures of articles of iron and steel, metals and other materials including cement, oils, paints, coal, minerals, etc., for all central and local Government Departments and local Administrations, State and Company-worked Railways, Indian States, Port Trusts, Municipalities and all other public bodies.

(ii) A schedule of charges for the testing and inspection of local manufactures of articles of iron and steel, metals and other materials including cement, oils, paints, coal, minerals, etc., for private firms and individuals.

The revised scales will come into force with effect from the 1st September 1923, from which date all work which is not definitely covered by existing contracts will be charged for at the revised rates.

3. The new charges, as explained in the notes to the schedules, are for work done in the areas where the testing and inspection staff is located and for tests and analyses made on Government owned machines or with Government apparatus. Other rates, which will be determined by the circumstances of each case, will be chargeable for tests or inspections carried out elsewhere than at the places where a testing or inspection staff is located and also for tests carried out on machines not belonging to Government. The list of tests and analyses given is not exhaustive. Other mechanical tests and analyses can be made as required within the limits of the capacity of the machines and apparatus installed at rates which may be ascertained on application to the Superintendent of the Government Test House or the Metallurgical Inspector as the case may be.

4. Until further notice, all requisitions or requests for inspections should be forwarded to the Chief Controller of Stores, who will arrange for the performance of the work by such of the organizations under his control as appears to him most suited to carry out the work. Requisitions and requests for tests, analyses, examination of materials and expression of opinion on result of such examination should as hitherto be forwarded direct to the Superintendent of the Government Test House or the Metallurgical Inspector as the case may be.

5. For the accounting and recovery of the charges specified in the accompanying schedules, the following procedure will be observed. In the case of work done for Government Departments in respect of stores purchased through the agency of the Indian

Stores Department the inspection and testing charges will be debited against the Department concerned by the Audit Officer, Indian Stores Department, along with the cost of the stores purchased. In the case of inspections and tests of materials purchased otherwise than through the agency of *the Indian Stores Department, the officer in charge of the Inspection or testing organization will, as soon as the work is completed, prepare a voucher showing the value of work done and forward it in triplicate to the Department concerned which will countersign and return two copies to such officer and retain one copy for record. At the end of the month, the officer in charge of the inspection or testing agency will send the accepted vouchers to the Audit Officer, Indian Stores Department, for adjustment In the case of work done for private firms and individuals, the cost of the work done should be realised in cash by the officer in charge of the inspection or testing organization and paid into the nearest Government Treasury to the account of the Audit Officer, Indian Stores Department. If the parties so desire, they may be asked to pay the amounts into the nearest Government Treasury to the account of the Audit Officer, Indian Stores Department, and to forward the Treasury Receipts to the officer in charge of the inspection or testing organization. These receipts should be transmitted by these officers to the Audit Officer, Indian Stores Department, at the end of the month for necessary adjustment.

ORDER.—Ordered that the above Resolution be communicated to all Local Governments and Administrations,* the several Departments of the Government of India,† the Heads of Departments subordinate to this Department,‡ and the Audit Officer, Indian Stores Departments, and that it be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India for general information.

A. H. LEY,
Secretary to the Government of India.

*Madras, Bombay, Bengal, United Provinces, Punjab, Burma, Bihar and Orissa, Central Provinces, Assam, North-West Frontier Province, Baluchistan, Ajmer-Merwara, Coorg and Delhi.

*†Foreign and Political, Army, Home, Commerce, Railway, Legislative, Finance, Education, Health and Lands, Financial Adviser (Military Finance).

‡Controller of Printing, Stationery and Stamps, Controller of Patents and Designs, Chief Inspector of Explosives, Chief Inspector of Mines, Chief Controller of Stores, Director, Geological Survey of India, Director-General of Posts and Telegraphs, Director-General of Observatories, Superintending Engineer, Simla Imperial Circle.

Schedule I.

Schedule of charges for testing and inspection by the inspection staff of the Indian Stores Department of the local manufactures of articles of iron and steel, metals and other materials including cement, oils, paints, coal, minerals, etc., for all Central and Local Government Departments and Local Administrations, State and Company-worked Railways, Indian States, Port Trusts, Municipalities and all other public bodies.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

It has been the long felt desire of the legal profession in India in all its branches to reorganize the legal profession of the country to secure a self-contained and unified independent Indian Bar functioning in the same manner as the sister organizations of Great Britain and the United States. With this object Munshi Iswar Saran brought a Resolution in the Legislative Assembly on the 24th February, 1921, requesting the Government to undertake legislation to remove all distinctions enforced by Statute or by practice between the several branches of the legal profession and the Honourable the Law Member on behalf of the Government was prepared to be guided by definite public opinion in the matter and accordingly undertook to make reference to the Local Governments, High Courts and local bodies in India, and a motion to that effect was accepted by the Assembly. Sufficient time has since elapsed and it is therefore necessary to focus legal public opinion in the matter. The object of the Bill is to create one Indian Bar, and only where the circumstances of a province require it, but not otherwise, another for the mofussil districts and at the same time to secure for the profession one single self-contained representative body with powers of enrolment and discipline and regulation of professional conduct and other matters connected therewith.

Effect of marriage between persons domiciled and one not domiciled in British India

54. If a person whose domicile is not in British India marries in British India a person whose domicile is in British India, neither party acquires by the marriage any rights in respect of any property of the other party not comprised in a settlement made previous to the marriage, which he or she would not acquire thereby if both were domiciled in British India at the time of the marriage. Section 44, Act X of 1865.

Settlement of minor's property in contemplation of marriage.

55. The property of a minor may be settled in contemplation of marriage, provided the settlement is made by the minor with the approbation of the minor's father, or, if the father is dead or absent from British India, with the approbation of the High Court. Section 46, Act X of 1865.

PART IV.

(a) to all wills and codicils made by any Hindu, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina, on or after the first day of September, 1870, within the territories which at the said date were subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal or within the local limits of the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of the High Courts of Judicature at Madras and Bombay ; and

(b) to all such wills and codicils made outside those territories and limits so far, as relates to immoveable property situate within those territories or limits :

Provided that marriage shall not revoke any such will or codicil.

General application of Part.

57. (1) The provisions of this Part shall not apply to testamentary succession to the property of any Muhammadan nor, save as provided by section 56, to testamentary succession to the property of any Hindu, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina ; nor shall they apply to any will made before the first day of January, 1866. Section 331, Act X of 1865

(2) Save as provided in sub-section (1) or by any other law for the time being in force, the provisions of this Part shall constitute the law of British India applicable to all cases of testamentary succession. Section 2, Act X of 1865.

CHAPTER II.

Of Wills and Codicils.

Person capable of making wills.

58. Every person of sound mind not being a minor may dispose of his property by will. Section 46, Act X of 1865

Explanation 1.—A married woman may dispose by will of any property which she could alienate by her own act during her life.

Explanation 2.—Persons who are deaf or dumb or blind are not thereby incapacitated for making a will if they are able to know what they do by it.

Explanation 3.—A person who is ordinarily insane may make a will during an interval in which he is of sound mind.

Explanation 4.—No person can make a will while he is in such state of mind, whether arising from intoxication or from illness or from any other cause, that he does not know what he is doing.

Illustrations.

(a) A can perceive what is going on in his immediate neighbourhood, and can answer familiar questions, but has not a competent understanding as to the nature of his property, or the persons who are of kindred to him, or in whose favour it would be proper that he should make his will. A cannot make a valid will.

(b) A executes an instrument purporting to be his will, but he does not understand the nature of the instrument nor the effect of its provisions. This instrument is not a valid will.

(c) A, being very feeble and debilitated, but capable of exercising a judgment as to the proper mode of disposing of his property, makes a will. This is a valid will.

Testamentary guardian

59. A father, whatever his age may be, may by will appoint a guardian or guardians for his child during minority. Section 47 Act X of 1865

Will obtained by fraud, coercion or importunity

60. A will or any part of a will, the making of which has been caused by fraud or coercion, or by such importunity as takes aways the free agency of the testator, is void. Section 48, Act X of 1865

Illustrations.

(a) A falsely and knowingly represents to the testator that the testator's only child is dead, or that he has done some undutiful act and thereby induces the testator to make a will in his, A's favour ; such will has been obtained by fraud, and is invalid.

(b) A, by fraud and deception, prevails upon the testator to bequeath a legacy to him. The bequest is void.

(c) A, being a prisoner by lawful authority, makes his will The will is not invalid by reason of the imprisonment.

(d) A threatens to shoot B, or to burn his house or to cause him to be arrested on a criminal charge, unless he makes a bequest in favour of C. B in consequence makes a bequest in favour of C. The bequest is void, the making of it having been caused by coercion.

(e) A, being of sufficient intellect, if undisturbed by the influence of others to make a will yet being so much under the control of B that he is not a free agent, makes a will dicated by B. It appears that he would not have executed the will but for fear of B. The will is invalid.

(f) A, being in so feeble a state of health as to be unable to resist importunity, is pressed by B to make a will of a certain purport and does so merely to purchase peace and in submission to B. The will is invalid.

(g) A being in a such a state of health as to be capable of exercising his own judgment and volition, B uses urgent intercession and persuasion with him to induce him to make a will of a certain purport. A, in consequence of the intercession and persuasion, but in the free exercise of his judgment and volition makes his will in the manner recommended by B. The will is not rendered invalid by the intercession and persuasion of B.

(h) A, with a view to obtaining a legacy from B pays him attention and flatters him and thereby produces in him a capricious partiality to A. B, in consequence of such attention and flattery, makes his will, by which he leaves a legacy to A. The bequest is not rendered invalid by the attention and flattery of A.

Will may be revoked or altered.

61. A will is liable to be revoked or altered by the maker of it at any time when he is competent to dispose of his property by will. Section 49, Act X of 1865

CHAPTER III.

OF THE EXECUTION OF UNPRIVILEGED WILLS.

Execution of unprivileged wills

62. Every testator, not being a soldier employed in an expedition or engaged in actual warfare, or a mariner at sea, shall execute his will according to the following rules :— Section 50, Act X of 1865

(a) The testator shall sign or shall affix his mark to the will, or it shall be signed by some other person in his presence and by his direction.

(b) The signature or mark of the testator, or the signature of the person signing for him, shall be so placed that it shall appear that it was intended thereby to give effect to the writing as a will.

(c) The will shall be attested by two or more witnesses each of whom has seen the testator sign or affix his mark to the will or has seen some other person sign the will, in the presence and by the direction of the testator, or has received from the testator a personal acknowledgment of his signature or mark, or of the signature of such other person ; and each of the witnesses shall sign the will in the presence of the testator, but it shall not be necessary that more than one witness be present at the same time, and no particular form of attestation shall be necessary.

Incorporation of papers by reference

63. If a testator, in a will or codicil duly attested, refers to any other document then actually written as expressing any part of his intentions, such document shall be deemed to form a part of the will or codicil in which it is referred to. Section 51, Act X of 1865.

CHAPTER IV.

OF PRIVILEGED WILLS.

Privileged will

64. Any soldier being employed in an expedition or engaged in actual warfare, or any mariner being at sea, may, if he has completed the age of eighteen years, dispose of his property by a will made in the manner provided in section 65. Such wills are called privileged wills. Section 52, Act X of 1865

Illustrations.

(a) A, a medical officer attached to a regiment, is actually employed in an expedition. He is a soldier actually employed in an expedition, and can make a privileged will

(b) A is at sea in a merchant-ship, of which he is the purser. He is a mariner, and, being at sea, can make a privileged will

(c) A, a soldier serving in the field against insurgents, is a soldier engaged in actual warfare, and as such can make a privileged will.

(d) A, a mariner of a ship, in the course of a voyage, is temporarily on shore while she is lying in harbour. He is, for the purposes of this section, a mariner at sea, and can make a privileged will.

(e) A, an admiral who commands a naval force, but who lives on shore, and only occasionally goes on board his ship, is not considered as at sea, and cannot make a privileged will.

(f) A, a mariner serving on a military expedition, but not being at sea, is considered as a soldier, and can make a privileged will.

Mode of making, and rules for executing, privileged wills

65. (1) Privileged wills may be in writing, or may be made by word of mouth. Section 53, Act X of 1865

(2) The execution of privileged wills shall be governed by the following rules :—

(a) The will may be written wholly by the testator, with his own hand. In such case it need not be signed or attested.

(b) It may be written wholly or in part by another person, and signed by the testator. In such case it need not be attested.

(c) If the instrument purporting to be a will is written wholly or in part by another person and is not signed by the testator, it shall be deemed to be his will, if it is shown that it was written by the testator's directions or that he recognised it as his will.

(d) If it appears on the face of the instrument that the execution of it in the manner intended by the testator was not completed, the instrument shall not, by reason of that circumstance, be invalid, provided that his non-execution of it can be reasonably ascribed to some cause other than the abandonment of the testamentary intentions expressed in the instrument.

(e) If the soldier or mariner has written instructions for the preparation of his will, but has died before it could be prepared and executed, such instructions shall be considered to constitute his will.

(f) If the soldier or mariner has, in the presence of two witnesses, given verbal instructions for the preparation of his will, and they have been reduced into writing in his lifetime, but he has died before the instrument could be prepared and executed, such instructions shall be considered to constitute his will, although they may not have been reduced into writing in his presence, nor read over to him.

(g) The soldier or mariner may make a will by word of mouth by declaring his intentions before two witnesses present at the same time.

(h) A will made by word of mouth shall be null at the expiration of one month after the testator, being still alive, has ceased to be entitled to make a privileged will.

CHAPTER V.

OF THE ATTESTATION, REVOCATION, ALTERATION AND REVIVAL OF WILLS.

Effect of gift to attesting witness.

66. A will shall not be deemed to be insufficiently attested by reason of any benefit thereby given either by way of bequest or by way of appointment to any person attesting it, or to his or her wife or husband; but the bequest or appointment shall be void so far as concerns the person so attesting, or the wife or husband of such person, or any person claiming under either of them. Section 54, Act X of 1865

Explanation.—A legatee under a will does not lose his legacy by attesting a codicil which confirms the will.

Witness not disqualified by interest or by being executor

67. No person, by reason of interest in, or of his being an executor of, a will, shall be disqualified as a witness to prove the execution of the will or to prove the validity or invalidity thereof. Section 59, Act X of 1865.

Revocation of will by testator's marriage

68. Every will shall be revoked by the marriage of the maker, except a will made in exercise of a power of appointment, when the property over which the power of appointment is exercised would not, in default of such appointment, pass to his or her executor or administrator, or to the person entitled in case of intestacy. Section 69, Act X of 1865

Explanation.—Where a man is invested with power to determine the disposition of property of which he is not the owner, he is said to have power to appoint such property.

Revocation of unprivileged will or codicil

69. No unprivileged will or codicil, nor any part thereof, shall be revoked otherwise than by marriage, or by another will or codicil, or by some writing declaring an intention to revoke the same and executed in the manner in which an unprivileged will is hereinbefore required to be executed, or by the burning, tearing or otherwise destroying the same by the testator or by some person in his presence and by his direction with the intention of revoking the same. Section 57, Act X of 1865

Illustrations.

(a) A has made an unprivileged will. Afterwards A makes another unprivileged will which purports to revoke the first. This is a revocation.

(b) A has made an unprivileged will. Afterwards, A being entitled to make a privileged will, makes a privileged will, which purports to revoke his unprivileged will. This is a revocation.

Effect of obliteration, interlineation or alteration in unprivileged will

70. No obliteration, interlineation or other alteration made in any unprivileged will after the execution thereof shall have any effect, except so far as the words or meaning of the will have been thereby rendered illegible or undiscernible, unless such alteration has been executed in like manner as hereinbefore is required for the execution of the will: Section Act X of 1865

Provided that the will, as so altered, shall be deemed to be duly executed if the signature of the testator and the subscription of the witnesses is made in the margin or on some other part of the will opposite or near to such alteration, or at the foot or end of or opposite to a memorandum referring to such alteration, and written at the end or some other part of the will.

Revocation of privileged will or codicil

71. A privileged will or codicil may be revoked by the testator by an unprivileged will or codicil, or by any act expressing an intention to revoke it and accompanied by such formalities as would be sufficient to give validity to a privileged will, or by the burning, tearing or otherwise destroying the same by the testator, or by some person in his presence and by his direction, with the intention of revoking the same. Section 69, Act X of 1865

Explanation.—In order to the revocation of a privileged will or codicil by an act accompanied by such formalities as would be sufficient to give validity to a privileged will, it is not necessary that the testator should at the time of doing that act be in a situation which entitles him to make a privileged will.

Revival of unprivileged will

72. (1) No unprivileged will or codicil, nor any part thereof, which has been revoked in any manner, shall be revived otherwise than by the re-execution thereof, or by a codicil executed in manner hereinbefore required, and showing an intention to revive the same. Section 60, Act X of 1865

(2) When any will or codicil, which has been partly revoked and afterwards wholly revoked, is revived, such revival shall not extend to so much thereof as has been revoked before the revocation of the whole thereof, unless an intention to the contrary is shown by the will or codicil.

CHAPTER VI.

OF THE CONSTRUCTION OF WILLS.

Wording will.

73. It is not necessary that any technical words or terms of art be used in a will, but only that the wording be such that the intentions of the testator can be known therefrom Section 61, Act X of 1865

Inquiries to determine questions as to object or subject of will

74. For the purpose of determining questions as to what person or what property is denoted by any words used in a will, a Court shall inquire into every material fact relating to the persons who claim to be interested under such will, the property which is claimed as the subject of disposition, the circumstances of the testator and of his family, and into every fact a knowledge of which may conduce to the right application of the words which the testator has used. Section 62, Act X of 1865

Illustrations.

(a) A, by his will, bequeaths 1,000 rupees to his eldest son or to his youngest grandchild, or to his cousin, Mar. A Court may make enquiry in order to ascertain to what person the description in the will applies.

(b) A, by his will, leaves to B "my estate called Black Acre". It may be necessary to take evidence in order to ascertain what is the subject matter of the bequest; that is to say, what estate of the testator's is called Black Acre.

(c) A, by his will, leaves to B "the estate which I purchased of C". It may be necessary to take evidence in order to ascertain what estate the testator purchased of C.

Misnomer or misdescription of object

75. (1) Where the words used in a will to designate or describe a legatee or a class of legatees sufficiently show what is meant, an error in the name or description shall not prevent the legacy from taking effect. Section 63, Act X of 1865

(2) A mistake in the name of a legatee may be corrected by a description of him, and a mistake in the description of a legatee may be corrected by the name.

Illustrations

(a) A bequeaths a legacy to "Thomas, the second son of my brother, John". The testator has an only brother, named John, who has no son named Thomas, but has a second son whose name is William. William shall have the legacy.

(b) A bequeaths a legacy "to Thomas, the second son of my brother John". The testator has an only brother, named John, whose first son is named Thomas, and whose second son is named William. Thomas shall have the legacy.

(c) The testator bequeaths his property "to A and B, the legitimate children of C". C has no legitimate child, but has two illegitimate children, A and B. The bequest to A and B takes effect, although they are illegitimate.

(d) The testator gives his residuary estate to be divided among "my seven children" and, proceeding to enumerate them, mentions six names only. This omission shall not prevent the seventh child from taking a share with the others.

(e) The testator, having six grandchildren, makes a bequest to "my six grandchildren" and proceeding to mention them by their Christian names, mentions one twice over omitting another altogether. The one whose name is not mentioned shall take a share with the others.

(f) The testator bequeaths "1,000 rupees to each of the three children of A". At the date of the will A has four children. Each of these four children shall, if he survives the testator, receive a legacy of 1,000 rupees.

When words may be supplied

76. Where any word material to the full expression of the meaning has been omitted, it may be supplied by the context. Section 64, Act X of 1865.

Illustration.

The testator gives a legacy of "five hundred" to his daughter A, and a legacy of "five hundred rupees" to his daughter B. A shall take a legacy of five hundred rupees.

Rejection of erroneous particulars in description of subject.

77. If the thing which the testator intended to bequeath can be sufficiently identified from the description of it given in the will, but some parts of the description do not apply, such parts of the description shall be rejected as erroneous, and the bequest shall take effect. Section 65, Act X of 1865.

Illustrations.

(a) A bequeaths to B "my marsh-lands lying in L, and in the occupation of X". The testator had marsh lands lying in L but had no marsh-lands in the occupation of X. The words "in the the occupation of X" shall be rejected as erroneous and the marsh-lands of the testator lying in L shall pass by the bequest.

(b) The testator bequeaths to A "my zamindari of Rampur". He had an estate at Rampur but it was a taluq and not a zamindari. The taluq passes by this bequest.

When part of description may not be rejected as erroneous

78. If a will mentions several circumstances as descriptive of the thing which the testator intends to bequeath, and there is any property of his in respect of which all those circumstances exist, the bequest shall be considered as limited to such property, and it shall not be lawful to reject any part of the description as erroneous, because the testator had other property to which such part of the description does not apply. Section 66, Act X of 1865.

Explanation.—In judging whether a case falls within the meaning of this section, any words which would be liable to rejection under section 77 shall be deemed to have been struck out of the will.

Illustrations.

(a) A bequeaths to B "my marsh-lands lying in L, and in the occupation of X". The testator had marsh lands lying in L, some of which were in the occupation of X, and some not in the occupation of X. The bequest shall be considered as limited to such of the testator's marsh-lands lying in L as were in the occupation of X.

(b) A bequeaths to B "my marsh lands lying in L and in the occupation of X, comprising 1,000 bighas of lands". The testator had marsh-lands lying in L some of which were in the occupation of X, and some not in the occupation of X. The measurement is wholly inapplicable to the marsh lands of either class, or to the whole taken together. The measurement shall be considered as struck out of the will, and such of the testator's marsh lands lying in L as were in the occupation of X shall alone pass by the bequest.

Extrinsic evidence admissible in cases of patent ambiguity.

79. Where the words of a will are unambiguous, but it is found by extrinsic evidence that they admit of applications, one only of which can have been intended by the testator, extrinsic evidence may be taken to show which of these applications was intended. Section 67, Act X of 1865

Illustrations.

(a) A man, having two cousins of the name of Mary, bequeaths a sum of money to "my cousin, Mary". It appears that there are two persons each answering the description in the will. That description, therefore, admits of two applications, only one of which can have been intended by the testator. Evidence is admissible to show which of the two applications was intended.

(b) A, by his will, leave to B "my estate called Sultanpur Khurd". It turns out that he had two estates called Sultanpur Khurd Evidence is admissible to show which estate was intended.

Extrinsic evidence inadmissible in case of patent ambiguity or deficiency.

80. Where there is an ambiguity or deficiency on the face of a will, no extrinsic evidence as to the intentions of the testator shall be admitted. Section 68, Act X of 1865.

Illustrations.

(a) A man has an aunt, Caroline, and a cousin, Mary, and has no aunt of the name of Mary. By his will he bequeaths 1,000 rupees to "my aunt, Caroline" and 1,000 rupees to "my cousin, Mary" and afterwards bequeaths 2,000 rupees to "my before mentioned aunt, Mary". There is no person to whom the description given in the will can apply, and evidence is not admissible to show who was meant by "my before-mentioned aunt, Mary". The bequest is therefore void for uncertainty under section 88

(b) A bequeaths 1,000 rupees to leaving a blank for the name of the legatee. Evidence is not admissible to show what name the testator intended to insert

(c) A bequeaths to B rupees, or "my estate of ". Evidence is not admissible to show what sum or what estate the testator intended to insert.

Meaning of clause to be collected from entire will.

81. The meaning of any clause in a will is to be collected from the entire instrument, and all its parts are to be construed with reference to each other. Section 69, Act X of 1865.

Illustrations.

(a) The testator gives to B a specific fund or property at the death of A, and by a subsequent clause gives the whole of his property to A. The effect of the several clauses taken together is to vest the specific fund or property in A for life, and after his decease in B; it appearing from the bequest to B that the testator meant to use in a restricted sense the words in which he describes what he gives to A.

(b) Where a testator having an estate, one part of which is called Black Acre, bequeaths the whole of his estate to A, and in another part of his will bequeaths Black Acre to B; the latter bequest is to be read as an exception out of the first as if he had said "I give Black Acre to B, and all the rest of my estate to A".

When words may be understood in restricted sense, and when in a sense wider than usual

82. General words may be understood in a restricted sense where it may be collected from the will that the testator meant to use them in a restricted sense; and words may be understood in a wider sense than that which they usually bear, where it may be collected from the other words of the will that the testator meant to use them in such wider sense. Section 70, Act X of 1865.

Illustrations.

(a) A testator gives to A "my farm in the occupation of B," and to C "all my marsh lands in L." Part of the farm in the occupation of B consists of marsh lands in L, and the testator also has other marsh-lands in L. The general words, "all my marsh lands in L," are restricted by the gift to A. A takes the whole of the farm in the occupation of B, including that proportion of the farm which consists of marsh-lands in L.

(b) The testator (a sailor on ship-board) bequeathed to his mother his gold ring, buttons and chests of clothes, and to his friend, A (a shipmate), his rod box, clasp knife and all things not before bequeathed The testator's share in a house does not pass to A under this bequest

(c) A, by his will, bequeathed to B all his household furniture, plate, linen, china, books, pictures and all other goods of whatever kind; and afterwards bequeathed to B a specified part of his property. Under the first bequest, B is entitled only to such articles of the testator's as are of the same nature with the articles therein enumerated.

Which of two possible construction preferred.

83. Where a clause is susceptible of two meanings according to one of which it has some effect, and according to the other of which it can have none, the former shall be preferred. Section 71, Act X of 1865

No part rejected, if it can be reasonably construed

84. No part of a will shall be rejected as destitute of meaning if it is possible to put a reasonable construction upon it. Section 72, Act X of 1865.

Interpretation of words repeated in different parts of will.

85. If the same words occur in different parts of the same will, they shall be taken to have been used everywhere in the same sense, unless a contrary intention appears. Section 73, Act X of 1865

Testator's intention to be effectuated as far as possible

86. The intention of the testator shall not be set aside because it cannot take effect to the full extent, but effect is to be given to it as far as possible. Section 74, Act X of 1865

Illustration.

The testator by a will made on his death-bed bequeathed all his property to C. D. for life and after his decease to a certain hospital. The intention of the testator cannot take effect to its full extent, because the gift to the hospital is void under section 117, but it shall take effect so far as regards the gift to C. D.

The last of two inconsistent clauses prevails.

87. Where two clauses or gifts in a will are irreconcileable, so that they cannot possibly stand together, the last shall prevail. Section 75, Act X of 1865

Illustrations.

(a) The testator by the first clause of his will leaves his estate of Ramnagar "to A," and by the last clause of his will leaves it "to B and not to A." B shall have it.

(b) If a man at the commencement of his will gives his house to A, and at the close of it directs that his house shall be sold and the proceeds invested for the benefit of B, the latter disposition shall prevail.

Will or bequest void for uncertainty.

88. A will or bequest not expressive of any definite intention is void for uncertainty. Section 76, Act X of 1865

Illustration.

If a testator says "I bequeath goods to A," or "I bequeath to A" or "I leave to A all the goods mentioned in the schedule," and no schedule is found; or "I bequeath 'money,' 'wheat,' 'oil'" or the like, without saying how much; this is void.

Words describing subject refer to property answering description at testator's death

89. The description contained in a will of property, the subject of gift, shall, unless a contrary intention appears by the will, be deemed to refer to and comprise the property answering that description at the death of the testator. Section 77, Act X of 1865.

Power of appointment executed by general bequest

90. Unless a contrary intention appears by the will, a bequest of the estate of the testator shall be construed to include any property which he may have power to appoint by will to any object he may think proper, and shall operate as an execution of such power; and a bequest of property described in a general manner shall be construed to include any property to which such description may extend, which he may have power to appoint by will to any object he may think proper, and shall operate as an execution of such power. Section 78, Act X of 1865

Implied gift to objects of power in default of appointment

91. Where property is bequeathed to or for the benefit of certain objects as a specified person may appoint or for the benefit of certain objects in such proportions as a specified person may appoint, and the will does not provide for the event of no appointment being made; if the power given by the will is not exercised, the property belongs to all the objects of the power in equal shares. Section 79, Act X of 1865

Illustration.

A, by his will, bequeaths a fund to his wife, for her life, and directs that at her death it shall be divided among his children in such proportions as she shall appoint. The widow dies without having made any appointment. The fund shall be divided equally among the children.

Bequest to "heirs," etc., of particular person without qualifying terms

92. Where a bequest is made to the "heirs" or "right heirs" or "relations" or "nearest relations" or "family" or "kindred" or "nearest of kin" or "next-of-kin" of a particular person without any qualifying terms, and the class so designated forms the direct and independent object of the bequest, the property bequeathed shall be distributed as if it had belonged to such person, and he had died intestate in respect of it, leaving assets for the payment of his debts independently of such property. Section 80, Act X of 1865.

Illustrations.

(a) A leaves his property "to my own nearest relations" The property goes to those who would be entitled to it if A had died intestate, leaving assets for the payment of his debts independently of such property.

(b) A bequeaths 10,000 rupees "to B for his life, and, after the death of B, to my own right heirs" The legacy after B's death belongs to those who would be entitled to it if it had formed part of A's unbequeathed property.

(c) A leaves his property to B; but if B dies before him, to B's next of-kin; B dies before A; the property devolves as if it had belonged to B, and he had died intestate, leaving assets for the payment of his debts independently of such property.

(d) A leaves 10,000 rupees "to B for his life, and after his decease to the heirs of C." The legacy goes as if it had belonged to C and he had died intestate, leaving assets for the payment of his debts independently of the legacy.

Bequest to "representatives," etc, of particular person

93. Where a bequest is made to the "representatives" or "legal representatives" or "personal representatives" or "executors or administrators" of a particular person, and the class so designated forms the direct and independent object of the bequest, the property bequeathed shall be distributed as if it had belonged to such person and he had died intestate in respect of it. Section 81, Act X of 1865

Illustration.

A bequest is made to the "legal representatives" of A. A has died intestate and insolvent. B is his administrator. B is entitled to receive the legacy, and shall apply it in the first place to the discharge of such part of A's debts as may remain unpaid: if there be any surplus, B shall pay it to those persons who at A's death would have been entitled to receive any property of A's which might remain after payment of his debts, or to the representatives of such persons.

Bequest without words of limitation

94. Where property is bequeathed to any person, he is entitled to the whole interest of the testator therein, unless it appears from the will that only a restricted interest was intended for him. Section 82, Act X of 1865

Bequest in alternative

95. Where property is bequeathed to a person with a bequest in the alternative to another person or to a class of persons, then, if a contrary intention does not appear by the will, the legatee first named shall be entitled to the legacy if he is alive at the time when it takes effect; but if he is then dead, the person or class of persons named in the second branch of the alternative shall take the legacy. Section 83, Act X of 1865

Illustrations.

(a) A bequest is made to A or to B A survives the testator, B takes nothing.

(b) A bequest is made to A or to B. A dies after the date of the will, and before the testator. The legacy goes to B

(c) A bequest is made to A or to B. A is dead at the date of the will. The legacy goes to B.

(d) Property is bequeathed to A or his heirs. A survives the testator. A takes the property absolutely.

(e) Property is bequeathed to A or his nearest of kin. A dies in the lifetime of the testator. Upon the death of the testator, the bequest to A's nearest of kin takes effect.

(f) Property is bequeathed to A for life, and after his death to B or his heirs. A and B survive the testator. B dies in A's lifetime. Upon A's death the bequest to the heirs of B takes effect.

(g) Property is bequeathed to A for life, and after his death to B or his heirs. B dies in the testator's lifetime. A survives the testator. Upon A's death the bequest to the heirs of B takes effect.

Effect of words describing a class added to bequest to person.

96. Where property is bequeathed to a person, and words are added which describe a class of persons but do not denote them as direct objects of a distinct and independent gift, such person is entitled to the whole interest of the testator therein, unless a contrary intention appears by the will. Section 84, Act X of 1865

Illustrations.

(a) A bequest is made—to A and his children,

to A and his children by his present wife,
to A and his heirs,
to A and the heirs of his body,
to A and the heirs male of his body,
to A and the heirs female of his body,
to A and his issue,
to A and his family,
to A and his descendants,
to A and his representatives, to A and his personal representatives, to A and his executors and administrators.

In each of these cases, A takes the whole interest which the testator had in the property.

(b) A bequest is made to A and his brothers A and his brothers are jointly entitled to the legacy.

(c) A bequest is made to A for life and after his death to his issue. At the death of A the property belongs in equal shares to all persons who then answer the description of issue of A.

Bequest to class of persons under general description only.

97. Where a bequest is made to a class of persons under a general description only, no one to whom the words of the description are not in their ordinary sense applicable shall take the legacy. Section 85, Act X of 1865

Construction of terms

98. In a will— Section 86, Act X of 1865

(a) the word "children" applies only to lineal descendants in the first degree;

(b) the word "grand-children" applies only to lineal descendants in the second degree of the person whose "children" or "grand-children" are spoken of;

(c) the words "nephews" and "nieces" apply only to children of brothers or sisters;

(d) the words "cousins," or "first cousins," or "cousins-german," apply only to children of brothers or of sisters of the father or mother of the person whose "cousins," or "first cousin," or "cousins-german," are spoken of;

(e) the words "first cousins once removed" apply only to children of cousins-german, or to cousins-german of a parent of the person whose "first cousins once removed" are spoken of;

(f) the words "second cousins" apply only to grand-children of brothers or of sisters of the grand-father or grand-mother of the person whose "second cousins" are spoken of;

(g) the words "issue" and descendants" apply to all lineal descendants whatever of the person whose "issue" or "descendants" are spoken of ;

(h) words expressive of collateral relationship apply alike to relatives of full and of half blood ; and (i) all words expressive of relationship apply to a child in the womb who is afterwards born alive.

Words expressing relationship denote only legitimate relatives or failing such relatives reputed legitimate

Section 87, Act X of 1865.

99. In the absence of any intimation to the contrary in a will, the word "child," the word "son," the word "daughter," or any word which expresses relationship, is to be understood as denoting only a legitimate relative, or, where there is no such legitimate relative, a person who has acquired, at the date of the will, the reputation of being such relative.

Illustrations.

(a) A, having three children, B, C and D, of whom B and C are legitimate and D is illegitimate, leaves his property to be equally divided among "my children". The property belongs to B and C in equal shares to the exclusion of D.

(b) A, having a niece of illegitimate birth, who has acquired the reputation of being his niece, and having no legitimate niece bequeaths a sum of money to his niece. The illegitimate niece is entitled to the legacy.

(c) A, having in his will enumerated his children, and named as one of them B, who is illegitimate, leaves a legacy to "my said children." B will take a share in the legacy along with the legitimate children

(d) A leaves a legacy to "the children of B". B is dead and has left none but illegitimate children. All those who had at the date of the will acquired the reputation of being the children of B are objects of the gift.

(e) A bequeaths a legacy to "the children of B". B never had any legitimate child. C and D had, at the date of the will, acquired the reputation of being children of B. After the date of the will and before the death of the testator, E and F were born, and acquired the reputation of being children of B. Only C and D are objects of the bequest.

(f) A makes a bequest in favour of his child by a certain woman, not his wife B had acquired at the date of the will the reputation of being the child of A by the woman designated. B takes the legacy.

(g) A makes a bequest in favour of his child to be born of a woman who never becomes his wife. The bequest is void.

(h) A makes a bequest in favour of the child of which a certain woman, not married to him, is pregnant. The bequest is valid

Rules of construction where will purports to make two bequests to same person

Section 88, Act X of 1865.

100. Where a will purports to make two bequests to the same person, and a question arises whether the testator intended to make the second bequest instead of or in addition to the first ; if there is nothing in the will to show what he intended, the following rules shall have effect in determining the construction to be put upon the will :—

(a) If the same specific thing is bequeathed twice to the same legatee in the same will or in the will and again in the codicil, he is entitled to receive that specific thing only.

(b) Where one and the same will or one and the same codicil purports to make, in two places, a bequest to the same person of the same quantity or amount of anything, he shall be entitled to one such legacy only.

(c) Where two legacies of unequal amount are given to the same person in the same will, or in the same codicil, the legatee is entitled to both.

(d) Where two legacies, whether equal or unequal in amount, are given to the same legatee, one by a will and the other by a codicil, or each by different codicil, the legatee is entitled to both legacies.

Explanation.—In clauses (a) to (d) of this section, the word "will" does not include a codicil.

Illustrations.

(a) A, having ten shares, and no more, in the Imperial Bank of India made his will, which contains near its commencement the words "I bequeath my ten shares in the Imperial Bank of India to B". After other bequests, the will concludes with the words "and I bequeath my ten shares in the Imperial Bank of India to B". B is entitled simply to receive A's ten shares in the Imperial Bank of India.

(b) A, having one diamond ring, which was given him by B, bequeaths to C the diamond ring which was given by B. A afterwards made a codicil to his will, and thereby, after giving other legacies, he bequeathed to C the diamond ring which was given him by B. C can claim nothing except the diamond ring which was given to A by B.

(c) A, by his will, bequeaths to B the sum of 5,000 rupees and afterwards, in the same will, repeats the bequest in the same words. B is entitled to one legacy of 5,000 rupees only.

(d) A, by his will, bequeaths to B the sum of 5,000 rupees and afterwards, in the same will, bequeaths to B the sum of 6,000 rupees. B is entitled to receive 11,000 rupees.

(e) A, by his will, bequeaths to B 5,000 rupees and by a codicil to the will he bequeaths to him 5,000 rupees. B is entitled to receive 10,000 rupees.

(f) A, by one codicil to his will, bequeaths to B 5,000 rupees and by another codicil bequeaths to him 6,000 rupees. B is entitled to receive 11,000 rupees.

(g) A, by his will, bequeaths "500 rupees to B because she was my nurse," and in another part of the will bequeaths 500 rupees to B "because she went to England with my children." B is entitled to receive 1,000 rupees.

(h) A, by his will, bequeaths to B the sum of 5,000 rupees and also, in another part of the will, an annuity of 400 rupees. B is entitled to both legacies.

(i) A, by his will, bequeaths to B the sum of 5,000 rupees and also bequeaths to him the sum of 5,000 rupees if he shall attain the age of 18. B is entitled absolutely to one sum of 5,000 rupees, and takes a contingent interest in another sum of 5,000 rupees.

Constitution of residuary legatee.

101. A residuary legatee may be constituted by any words that show an intention on the part of the testator that the person designated shall take the surplus or residue of his property. Section 89, Act X of 1865

Illustrations.

(a) A makes her will, consisting of several testamentary papers, in one of which are contained the following words :—"I think there will be something left, after all funeral expenses, etc., to give to B, now at school, towards equipping him to any profession he may hereafter be appointed to". B is constituted residuary legatee.

(b) A makes his will, with the following passage at the end of it :—"I believe there will be found sufficient in my banker's hands to defray and discharge my debts, which I hereby desire B to do, and keep the residue for her own use and pleasure". B is constituted the residuary legatee.

(c) A bequeaths all his property to B, except certain stocks and funds, which he bequeaths to C. B is the residuary legatee.

Property to which residuary legatee entitled.

102. Under a residuary bequest, the legatee is entitled to all property belonging to the testator at the time of his death, of which he has not made any other testamentary disposition which is capable of taking effect. Section 90, Act X of 1865

Illustration.

A by his will bequeaths certain legacies, of which one is void under section 117, and another lapses by the death of the legatee. He bequeaths the residue of his property to B. After the date of his will, A purchases a zamindari, which belongs to him at the time of his death. B is entitled to the two legacies and the zamindari as part of the residue.

Time of vesting legacy in general terms

103. If a legacy is given in general terms, without specifying the time when it is to be paid, the legatee has a vested interest in it from the day of the death of the testator, and, if he dies without having received it, it shall pass to his representatives. Section 91, Act X of 1865

In what case legacy lapses.

104. (1) If the legatee does not survive the testator, the legacy cannot take effect, but shall lapse and form part of the residue of the testator's property, unless it appears by the will that the testator intended that it should go to some other person. Section 92, Act X of 1865

(2) In order to entile the representatives of the legatee to receive the legacy, it must be proved that he survived the testator.

Illustrations.

(a) The testator bequeaths to B "500 rupees which B owes me." B dies before the testator; the legacy lapses.

(b) A bequest is made to A and his children A dies before the testator, or happens to be dead when the will is made. The legacy to A and his children lapses.

(c) A legacy is given to A, and, in case of his dying before the testator, to B. A dies before the testator. The legacy goes to B.

(d) A sum of money is bequeathed to A for life, and after his death to B. A dies in the lifetime of the testator; B survives the testator. The bequest to B takes effect.

(e) A sum of money is bequeathed to A on his completing his eighteenth year, and in case he should die before he completes his eighteenth year, to B. A completes his eighteenth year and dies in the lifetime of the testator. The legacy to A lapses, and the bequest to B does not take effect.

(f) The testator and the legatee perished in the same shipwreck There is no evidence to show which died first. The legacy lapses.

Legacy does not lapse if one of two joint legatees die before testator.

105. If a legacy is given to two persons jointly, and one of them dies before the testator, the other legatee takes the whole. Section 93, Act X of 1865

Illustration.

The legacy is simply to A and B. A dies before the testator. B takes the legacy.

Effect of words showing testator's intention to give distinct shares

106. If a legacy is given to legatees in words which show that the testator intended to give them distinct shares of it, then, if any legatee dies before the testator, so much of the legacy as was intended for him shall fall into the residue of the testator's property. Section 94, Act X of 1865

Illustration.

A sum of money is bequeathed to A, B and C, to be equally divided among them. A dies before the testator. B and C shall only take so much as they would have had if A had survived the testator.

When lapsed share goes as undisposed of.

107. Where a share which lapses is a part of the general residue bequeathed by the will, that share shall go as undisposed of. Section 95 Act X of 1865.

Illustration.

The testator bequeaths the residue of his estate to A, B and C, to be equally divided between them. A dies before the testator. His one-third of the residue goes as undisposed of.

When bequest to testator's child or lineal descendant does not lapse on his death in testator's lifetime.

108. Where a bequest has been made to any child or other lineal descendant of the testator and the legatee dies in the lifetime of the testator, but any lineal descendant of his survives the testator, the bequest shall not lapse, but shall take effect as if the death of the legatee had happened immediately after the death of the testator, unless a contrary intention appears by the will. Section 96, Act X of 1865

Illustration.

A makes his will, by which he bequeaths a sum of money to his son, B, for his own absolute use and benefit. B dies before A, leaving a son, C, who survives A, and having made his will whereby he bequeaths all his property to his widow, D. The money goes to D.

Bequest to A for benefit of B does not lapse by A's death.

109. Where a bequest is made to one person for the benefit of another, the legacy does not lapse by the death, in the testator's lifetime, of the person to whom the bequest is made. Section 97, Act X of 1865

Survivorship in case of bequest to described class

110. Where a bequest is made simply to a described class of persons, the thing bequeathed shall go only to such as are alive at the testator's death. Section 98, Act X of 1865.

Exceptions.—If property is bequeathed to a class of persons described as standing in a particular degree of kindred to a specified individual, but their possession of it is deferred until a time later than the death of the testator by reason of a prior bequest or otherwise, the property shall at that time go to such of them as are then alive, and to the representatives of any of them who have died since the death of the testator.

Illustrations

(a) A bequeaths 1,000 rupees to "the children of B" without saying when it is to be distributed among them B had died previous to the date of the will, leaving three children, C, D and E. E died after the date of the will, but before the death of A. C and D survive A. The legacy shall belong to C and D, to the exclusion of the representatives of E.

(b) A bequeaths a legacy to the children of B. At the time of the testator's death, B has no children The bequest is void

(c) A lease for years of a house was bequeathed to A for his life, and after his decease to the children of B. At the death of the testator, B had two children living, C and D, and he never had any other child. Afterwards, during the lifetime of A, C died, leaving E, his executor. D has survived A. D and E are jointly entitled to so much of the lease-hold term as remains unexpired.

(d) A sum of money was bequeathed to A for her life, and after her decease, to the children of B. At the death of the testator, B had two children living, C and D, and, after that event, two children, E and F, were born to B. C and E died in the lifetime of A, C having made a will, E having made no will. A has died, leaving D and F surviving her. The legacy is to be divided into four equal parts, one of which is to be paid to the executor of C, one to D, one to the administrator of E and one to F.

(e) A bequeaths one-third of his lands to B for his life, and after his decease to the sisters of B. At the death of the testator, B had two sisters living, C and D, and after that event another sister E was born. C died during the life of B; D and E have survived B. One-third of A's lands belong to D, E and representatives of C, in equal shares

(f) A bequeaths 1,000 rupees to B for life and after his death equally among the children of C. Up to the death of B, C had not had any child. The bequest after the death of B is void.

(g) A bequeaths 1,000 rupees to "all the children born or to be born" of B to be divided among them at the death of C. At the death of the testator, B has two children living, D and E. After the death of the testator, but in the life time of C, two other children, F and G, are born to B After the death of C, another child is born to B. The legacy belongs to D, E, F and G, to the exclusion of the after-born child of B.

(h) A bequeaths a fund to the children of B, to be divided among them when the eldest shall attain majority. At the testator's death, B had one child living, named C. He afterwards had two other children, named D and E. E died, but C and D were living when C attained majority. The fund belongs to C, D and the representatives of E, to the exclusion of any child who may be born to B after C's attaining majority.

CHAPTER VII.

OF VOID BEQUESTS.

Bequest to person by a particular description who is not in existence at testator's death.

Section 99, Act X of 1865

111. When a bequest is made to a person by a particular description, and there is no person in existence at the testator's death who answers the description, the bequest is void.

Exception.—If property is bequeathed to a person described as standing in a particular degree of kindred to a specified individual, but his possession of it is deferred until a time later than the death of the testator, by reason of a prior bequest or otherwise; and if a person answering the description is alive at the death of the testator, or comes into existence between that event and such later time, the property shall, at such later time, go to that person, or, if he is dead, to his representatives.

Illustrations.

(a) A bequeaths 1,000 rupees to the eldest son of B. At the death of the testator, B has no son. The bequest is void

(b) A bequeaths 1,000 rupees to B for life, and after his death to the eldest son of C. At the death of the testator, C had no son. Afterwards, during the life of B, a son is born to C. Upon B's death the legacy goes to C's son.

(c) A bequeaths 1,000 rupees to B for life, and after his death to the eldest son of C. At the death of the testator, C had no son; afterwards, during the life of B, a son, named D, is born to C. D dies, then B dies. The legacy goes to the representative of D.

(d) A bequeaths his estate of Green Acre to B for life, and at his decease to the eldest son of C. Up to the death of B, C has had no son. The bequest to C's eldest son is void.

(e) A bequeaths 1,000 rupees to the eldest son of C, to be paid to him after the death of B. At the death of testator, C has no son, but a son is afterwards born to him during the life of B and is alive at B's death. C's son is entitled to the 1,000 rupees.

Bequest to person not in existence at testator's death, subject to prior bequest

112. Where a bequest is made to a person not in existence at the time of the testator's death, subject to a prior bequest contained in the will, the later bequest shall be void, unless it comprises the whole of the remaining interest of the testator in the thing bequeathed. Section 100, Act X of 1865

Illustrations.

(a) Property is bequeathed to A for his life, and after his death to his eldest son for life and after the death of the latter to his eldest son. At the time of the testator's death, A has no son. Here the bequest to A's eldest son is a bequest to a person not in existence at the testator's death It is not a bequest of the whole interest that remains to the testator. The bequest to A's eldest son for his life is void.

(b) A fund is bequeathed to A for his life, and after his death to his daughters. A survives the testator. A has daughters some of whom were not in existence at the testator's death. The bequest to A's daughters comprises the whole interest that remains to the testator in the thing bequeathed. The bequest to A's daughters is valid.

(c) A fund is bequeathed to A for his life, and after his death to his daughters, with a direction that, if any of them marries under the age of eighteen, her portion shall be settled so that it may belong to herself for life and may be divisible among her children after her death. A has no daughters living at the time of the testator's death, but has daughters born afterwards who survive him. Here the direction for a settlement has the effect in the case of each daughter who marries under eighteen of substituting for the absolute bequest to her a bequest to her merely for her life ; that is to say, a bequest to a person not in existence at the time of the testator's death of something which is less than the whole interest that remains to the testator in the thing bequeathed. The direction to settle the fund is void.

(d) A bequeaths a sum of money to B for life, and directs that upon the death of B the fund shall be settled upon his daughters, so that the portion of each daughter may belong to herself for life, and may be divided among her children after her death. B has no daughter living at the time of the testator's death. In this case the only bequest to the daughters of B is contained in the direction to settle the fund, and this direction amounts to a bequest to persons not yet born, of a life-interest in the fund, that is to say, of something which is less than the whole interest that remains to the testator in the thing bequeathed. The direction to settle the fund upon the daughters of B is void.

Rules against perpetuity

113. No bequest is valid whereby the vesting of the thing bequeathed may be delayed beyond the life-time of one or more persons living at the testator's death and the minority of some person who shall be in existence at the expiration of that period, and to whom, if he attains full age, the thing bequeathed is to belong. Section 101, Act X of 1865.

Illustrations.

(a) A fund is bequeathed to A for his life and after his death to B for his life ; and after B's death to such of the sons of B as shall first attain the age of 25. A and B survive the testator. Here the son of B who shall first attain the age of 25 may be a son born after the death of the testator ; such son may not attain 25 until more than 18 years have elapsed from the death of the longer liver of A and B ; and the vesting of the fund may thus be delayed beyond the lifetime of A and B and the minority of the sons of B. The bequest after B's death is void

(b) A fund is bequeathed to A for his life, and after his death to B for his life, and after B's death to such of B's sons as shall first attain the age of 25. B dies in the lifetime of the testator, leaving one or more sons. In this case the sons of B are persons living at the time of the testator's decease, and the time when either of them will attain 25 necessarily falls within his own lifetime. The bequest is valid.

(c) A fund is bequeathed to A for his life, and after his death to B for his life, with a direction that after B's death it shall be divided amongst such of B's children as shall attain the age of 18, but that, if no child of B shall attain that age, the fund shall go to C. Here the time for the division of the fund must arrive at the latest at the expiration of 18 years from the death of B, a person living at the testator's decease All the bequests are valid.

(d) A fund is bequeathed to trustees for the benefit of the testator's daughters, with a direction that, if any of them marry under age, her share of the fund shall be settled so as to devolve after her death upon such of her children as shall attain the age of 18. Any daughter of the testator to whom the direction applies must be in existence at his decease, and any portion of the fund which may eventually be settled as directed must vest not later than 18 years from the death of the daughters whose share it was. All these provisions are valid.

Bequest to a class some of whom may come under rules in sections 112 and 113.

114. If a bequest is made to a class of persons, with regard to some of whom it is inoperative by reason of the provisions of section 112 or section 113, such bequest shall be wholly void. Section 102, Act X of 1865.

Illustrations.

(a) A fund is bequeathed to A for life, and after his death to all his children who shall attain the age of 25. A survives the testator, and has some children living at the testator's death. Each child of A's living at the testator's death must attain the age of 25 (if at all) within the limits allowed for a bequest. But A may have children after the testator's decease, some of whom may not attain the age of 25 until more than 18 years have elapsed after the decease of A. The bequest to A's children, therefore, is inoperative as to any child born after the testator's death; and, as it is given to all his children as a class it is not good as to any division of that class, but is wholly void.

(b) A fund is bequeathed to A for his life, and after his death to B, C, D and all other children of A who shall attain the age of 25. B, C, D are children of A living at the testator's decease. In all other respects the case is the same as that supposed in Illustrations (a). The mention of B, C, and D by name does not prevent the bequest from being regarded as a bequest to a class, and the bequest is wholly void.

Bequest to take effect on failure of bequest void under sections 112, 113 or 114

115. Where a bequest is void by reasons of any of the provisions of section 112, section 113, or section 114, any bequest contained in the same will, and intended to take effect after or upon failure of such prior bequest, is also void. Section 103, Act X of 1865.

Illustrations.

(a) A fund is bequeathed to A for his life, and after his death to such of his sons as shall first attain the age of 25, for his life, and after the decease of such son to B. A and B survive the testator The bequest to B is intended to take effect after the bequest to such of the sons of A as shall first attain the age of 25, which bequest is void under section 113. The bequest to B is void.

(b) A fund is bequeathed to A for his life, and after his death to such of his sons as shall first attain the age of 25, and, if no son of A shall attain that age, to B. A and B survive the testator. The bequest to B is intended to take effect upon failure of the bequest to such of A's sons as shall first attain the age of 25, which bequest is void under section 113 The bequest to B is void.

Effect of direction for accumulation

116. A direction to accumulate the income arising from any property shall be void; and the property shall be disposed of as if no accumulation had been directed. Section 104, Act X of 1865.

Exception.—Where the property is immoveable, or where accumulation is directed to be made from the death of the testator, the direction shall be valid in respect only of the income arising from the property within one year next following the testator's death; and at the end of the year such property and income shall be disposed of respectively, as if the period during which the accumulation has been directed to be made had elapsed.

Illustrations.

(a) The will directs that the sum of 10,000 rupees shall be invested in Government securities, and the income accumulated for 20 years, and that the principal, together with the accumulations, shall then be divided between A, B and C. A, B, and C are entitled to receive the sum of 10,000 rupees at the end of a year from the testator's death.

(b) The will directs that 10,000 rupees shall be invested, and the income accumulated until A shall marry, and shall then be paid to him A is entitled to receive 10,000 rupees at the end of a year from the testator's death.

(c) The will directs that the rents of the farm of Sultanpur shall be accumulated for ten years, and that the accumulation shall be then paid to the eldest son of A. At the death of the testator, A has an eldest son living, named B. B shall receive, at the end of one year from the testator's death, the rents which have accrued during the year, together with any interest which may have been made by investing them.

(d) The will directs that the rents of the farm of Sultanpur shall be accumulated for ten years, and that the accumulation shall then be paid to the eldest son of A. At the death of the testator, A has no son. The bequest is void.

(e) A bequeaths a sum of money to B, to be paid to him when he shall attain the age of 18, and directs the interest to be accumulated till he shall arrive at that age. At A's death the legacy becomes vested in B ; and so much of the interest as is not required for his maintenance and education is accumulated, not by reason of the direction contained in the will, but in consequence of B's minority.

Bequest to religious or charitable uses.

117. No man having a nephew or niece or any nearer relative shall have power to bequeath any property to religious or charitable uses, except by a will executed not less than twelve months before his death, and deposited within six months from its execution in some place provided by law for the safe custody of the wills of living persons. Section 105, Act X of 1865.

Illustrations.

A having a nephew makes a bequest by a will not executed and deposited as required—for the relief of poor people ;

for the maintenance of sick soldiers ;

for the erection or support of a hospital ;

for the education and preferment of orphans ;

for the support of scholars ;

CHAPTER VIII.

OF THE VESTING OF LEGACIES.

Date of vesting of legacy when payment or possession postponed

118. Where by the terms of a bequest the legatee is not entitled to immediate possession of the thing bequeathed, a right to receive it at the proper time shall, unless a contrary intention appears by the will, become vested in the legatee on the testator's death, and shall pass to the legatee's representatives if he dies before that time and without having received the legacy, and in such cases the legacy is from the testator's death said to be vested in interest. Section 106, Act X of 1865

Explanation.—An intention that a legacy to any person shall not become vested in interest in him is not to be inferred merely from a provision whereby the payment or possession of the thing bequeathed is postponed, or whereby a prior interest therein is bequeathed to some other person, or whereby the income arising from the fund bequeathed is directed to be accumulated until the time of payment arrives, or from a provision that, if a particular event shall happen, the legacy shall go over to another person.

Illustrations.

(a) A bequeaths to B 100 rupees, to be paid to him at the death of C On A's death the legacy becomes vested in interest in B, and if he dies before C, his representatives are entitled to the legacy.

(b) A bequeaths to B 100 rupees, to be paid to him upon his attaining the age of 18. On A's death the legacy becomes vested in interest in B.

(c) A fund is bequeathed to A for life, and after his death to B. On the testator's death the legacy to B becomes vested in interest in B.

(d) A fund is bequeathed to A until B attains the age of 18 and then to B. The legacy to B is vested in interest from the testator's death.

(e) A bequeaths the whole of his property to B upon trust to pay certain debts out of the income, and then to make over the fund to C. At A's death the gift to C becomes vested in interest in him.

(f) A fund is bequeathed to A, B and C in equal shares, to be paid to them on their attaining the age of 18, respectively, with a proviso that, if all of them die under the age of 18, the legacy shall devolve upon D. On the death of the testator, the shares vested in interest in A, B and C, subject to be divested in case A, B and C shall all die under 18, and, upon the death of any of them (except the last survivor) under the age of 18, his vested interest passes, so subject to his representatives.

Date of vesting when legacy contingent upon specified uncertain event

119. (1) A legacy bequeathed in case a specified uncertain event shall happen does not vest until that event happens. Section 107, Act X of 1865

(2) A legacy bequeathed in case a specified uncertain event shall not happen does not vest until the happening of that event becomes impossible.

(3) In either case, until the condition has been fulfilled, the interest of the legatee is called contingent.

Exception.—Where a fund is bequeathed to any person upon his attaining a particular age, and the will also gives to him absolutely the income to arise from the fund before he reaches that age, or directs the income, or so much of it as may be necessary, to be applied for his benefit, the bequest of the fund is not contingent.

Illustrations.

(a) A legacy is bequeathed to D in case A, B and C shall all die under the age of 18. D has a contingent interest in the legacy until A, B and C all die under 18, or one of them attains that age.

(b) A sum of money is bequeathed to A "in case he shall attain the age of 18", or "when he shall attain the age of 18". A's interest in the legacy is contingent until the condition is fulfilled by his attaining that age.

(c) An estate is bequeathed to A for life, and after his death to B if B shall then be living; but if B shall not be then living to C. A, B and C survive the testator. B and C each take a contingent interest in the estate until the event which is to vest it in one or in the other has happened.

(d) An estate is bequeathed as in the case last supposed. B dies in the lifetime of A and C. Upon the death of B, C acquires a vested right to obtain possession of the estate upon A's death.

(e) A legacy is bequeathed to A when she shall attain the age of 18 or shall marry under that age with he consent of B, with a proviso that, if she neither attains 18 nor marries under that age with B's consent, the legacy shall go to C. A and C each take a contingent interest in the legacy. A attains the age of 18. A becomes absolutely entitled to the legacy although she may have married under 18 without the consent of B.

(f) An estate is bequeathed to A until he shall marry and after that event to B. B's interest in the bequest is contingent until the condition is fulfilled by A's marrying.

(g) An estate is bequeathed to A until he shall take advantage of any law for the relief of insolvent debtors, and after that event to B. B's interest in the bequest is contingent until A takes advantage of such a law.

(h) An state is bequeathed to A if he shall pay 500 rupees to B. A's interest in the bequest is contingent until he has paid 500 rupees to B.

(i) A leaves his farm of Sultanpur Khurd to B, if B shall convey his own farm of Sultanpur Buzurg to C. B's interest in the bequest is contingent until he has conveyed the latter farm to C.

(j) A fund is bequeathed to A if B shall not marry C within five years after the testator's death. A's interest in the legacy is contingent until the condition is fulfilled by the expiration of the five years without B's having married C, or by the occurrence within that period of an event which makes the fulfilment of the condition impossible.

(k) A fund is bequeathed to A if B shall not make any provision for him by will. The legacy is contingent until B's death.

(l) A bequeaths to B 500 rupees a year upon his attaining the age of 18, and directs that the interest, or a competent part thereof, shall be applied for his benefit until he reaches that age. The legacy is vested.

(m) A bequeaths to B 500 rupees when he shall attain the age of 18, and directs that a certain sum, out of another fund, shall be applied for his maintenance until he arrives at that age. The legacy is contingent.

Vesting of interest in bequest to such members of a class as shall have attained particular age.

120. Where a bequest is made only to such members of a class as shall have attained a particular age, a person who has not attained that age cannot have a vested interest in the legacy. Section 108, Act X of 1865.

Illustration.

A fund is bequeathed to such of the children of A as shall attain the age of 18, with a direction that, while any child of A shall be under the age of 18, the income of the share to which it may be presumed he will be eventually entitled, shall be applied for his maintenance and education. No child of A who is under the age of 18 has a vested interest in the bequest.

CHAPTER IX.

OF ONEROUS BEQUESTS.

Onerous bequests.

121. Where a bequest imposes an obligation on the legatee, he can take nothing by it unless he accepts it fully. Section 109, Act X of 1865.

Illustration.

He forfeits the shares in (X).

One of two separate and independent bequests to same person may be accepted, and other refused.

122. Where a will contains two separate and independent bequests to the same person, the legatee is at liberty to accept one of them and refuse the other, although the former may be beneficial and the latter onerous. Section 110, Act X of 1865.

Illustration.

A, having a lease for a term of years of a house at a rent which he and his representatives are bound to pay during the term, and which is higher than the house can be let for, bequeaths to B the lease and a sum of money. B refuses to accept the lease. He shall not by this refusal forfeit the money.

123. Where a legacy is given if a specified uncertain event shall happen and no time is mentioned in the will for the occurrence of that event, the legacy cannot take effect, unless such event happens before the period when the fund bequeathed is payable or distributable. Illustrations.

183. A person taking no benefit directly under a will, but deriving a benefit under it indirectly, is not put to his election. Section 171, Act X of 1865.

Illustration.

The lands of Sultanpur are settled upon C for life, and after his death upon D, his only child. A bequeaths the lands of Sultanpur to B, and 1,000 rupees to C. C dies intestate shortly after the testator, and without having made any election. D takes out administration to C, and as administrator elects on behalf of C's estate to take under the will. In that capacity he receives the legacy of 1,000 rupees and accounts to B for the rents of the lands of Sultanpur which accrued after the death of the testator and before the death of C. In his individual character he retains the lands of Sultanpur in opposition to the will.

Person taking in individual capacity under will may in other character elect to take in opposition.

184. A person who in his individual capacity takes a benefit under a will may, in another character, elect to take in opposition to the will. Section 172, Act X of 1865

Illustration.

The estate of Sultanpur is settled upon A for life, and, after his death, upon B. A leaves the estate of Sultanpur to D, and 2,000 rupees to B, and 1,000 rupees to C, who is B's only child. B dies intestate, shortly after the testator, without having made an election. C takes out administration to B, and as administrator elects to keep the estate of Sultanpur in opposition to the will, and to relinquish the legacy of 2,000 rupees. C may do this, and yet claim his legacy of 1,000 rupees under the will.

Exception to provisions of last six sections.

185. Notwithstanding anything contained in sections 179 to 184, where a particular gift is expressed in the will to be in lieu of something belonging to the legatee which is also in terms disposed of by the will, then, if the legatee claims that thing, he must relinquish the particular gift, but he is not bound to relinquish any other benefit given to him by the will. Section 172, Act X of 1865

Illustration.

Under A's marriage-settlement his wife is entitled, if she survives him, to the enjoyment of the estate of Sultanpur during her life. A by his will bequeaths to his wife an annuity of 200 rupees during her life, in lieu of her interest in the estate of Sultanpur, which estate he bequeaths to his son. He also gives his wife a legacy of 1,000 rupees. The widow elects to take what she is entitled to under the settlement. She is bound to relinquish the annuity, but not the legacy of 1,000 rupees.

When acceptance of benefit given by will constitutes election to take under will.

186. Acceptance of a benefit given by a will constitutes an election by the legatee to take under the will, if he had knowledge of his right to elect and of those circumstances which would influence the judgment of a reasonable man in making an election, or if he waives inquiry into the circumstances. Section 173, Act X of 1865.

(a) A is owner of an estate called Sultanpur Khurd, and has a life interest in another estate called Sultanpur Buzrug, to which upon his death his son B will be absolutely entitled. The will of A gives the estate of Sultanpur Khurd to B, and the estate of Sultanpur Buzrug to C. B in ignorance of his own right to the estate of Sultanpur Buzrug, allows C to take possession of it, and enters into possession of the estate of Sultanpur Khurd. B has not confirmed the bequest of Sultanpur Buzrug to C.

(b) B, the eldest son of A, is the possessor of an estate called Sultanpur. A bequeaths Sultanpur to C, and to B the residue of A's property. B having been informed by A's executors that the residue will amount to 5,000 rupees, allows C to take possession of Sultanpur. He afterwards discovers that the residue does not amount to more than 500 rupees. B has not confirmed the bequest of the estate of Sultanpur to C.

Circumstances in which knowledge or waiver is presumed or inferred

187. (1) Such knowledge or waiver of inquiry shall, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, be presumed if the legatee has enjoyed for two years the benefits provided for him by the will without doing any act to express dissent. Section 174, Act X of 1865

(2) Such knowledge or waiver of inquiry may be inferred from any act of the legatee which renders it impossible to place the persons interested in the subject-matter of the bequest in the same condition as if such act had not been done. Section 175, Act X of 1865

Illustration.

A bequeaths to B an estate to which she is entitled, and to C a coal mine. C takes possession of the mine and exhausts it He has thereby confirmed the bequest of the estate to B.

When testator's representatives may call upon legatee to elect

188. If the legatee does not, within one year after the death of the testator, signify to the testator's representatives his intention to confirm or to dissent from the will, the representatives shall, upon the expiration of that period, require him to make his election; and, if he does not comply with such requisition within a reasonable time after he has received it, he shall be deemed to have elected to confirm the will. Section 176, Act X of 1865

PART V.

PROTECTION OF PROPERTY OF DECEASED.

Person claiming right by succession to property of deceased may apply for relief against wrongful possession

191. (1) If any person dies leaving property, moveable or immoveable, any person claiming a right by succession thereto, or to any portion thereof, may make application to the District Judge of the district where any part of the property is found or situate for relief, either after actual possession has been taken by another person, or when forcible means of seizing possession are apprehended. Section 1, Act XIX of 1841.

(2) Any agent, relative or near friend, or the Court of Wards in cases within their cognizance, may, in the event of any minor, or any disqualified or absent person being entitled by succession to such property as aforesaid, make the like application for relief. Section 2, Act XIX of 1841

Inquiry made by Judge

192. The District Judge, to whom such application is made, shall, in the first place, examine the applicant on oath, and take such further evidence, if any, as he thinks necessary as to whether there is sufficient ground for believing that the party in possession or taking forcible means for seizing possession has no lawful title, and that the applicant, or the person on whose behalf he applies, is really entitled and is likely to be materially prejudiced if left to the ordinary remedy of a regular suit, and that the application is made bonâ fide. Section 3, Act XIX of 1841

Procedure

193. If the District Judge is satisfied that there is sufficient ground for believing as aforesaid but not otherwise, he shall summon the party complained of, and give notice of vacant or disturbed possession by publication, and, after the expiration of a reasonable time, shall determine summarily the right to possession (subject to regular suit as hereinafter provided) and shall deliver possession accordingly : Section 4, Act XIX of 1841

Provided that the Judge shall have the power to appoint an officer who shall take an inventory of effects, and seal or otherwise secure the same, upon being applied to for the purpose, without delay, whether he shall have concluded the inquiry necessary for citing the party complained of or not.

Appointment of curator pending determination of suit.

194. If it further appears upon such application and examination as aforesaid that danger is to be apprehended of the misappropriation or waste of the property before the summary suit can be determined, and that the delay in obtaining security from the party in possession or the insufficiency thereof is likely to expose the party out of possession to considerable risk, provided he is the lawful owner, the District Judge may appoint one or more curators whose authority shall continue according to the terms of his or their respective appointments, and in no case beyond the determination of the summary suit and the confirmation or delivery of possession in consequence thereof : Section 5, Act XIX of 1841

Provided that, in the case of land, the Judge may delegate to the Collector, or to any officer subordinate to the Collector, the powers of a curator :

Provided, further, that every appointment of a curator in respect of any property shall be duly published.

Powers conferable on curator.

195. The District Judge may authorize the curator either to take possession of the property generally, or until security is given by the party in possession, or until inventories of the property have been made, or for any other purpose necessary for securing the property from misappropriation or waste by the party in possession : Section 6, Act XIX of 1841.

Provided that it shall be entirely discretionary with the Judge, whether he allows the party in possession to continue in such possession on given security or not, and any continuance in possession shall be subject to such orders as the Judge may issue touching inventories, or the securing of deeds or other effects.

Prohibition of exercise of certain powers by curators.

196. (1) Where a certificate has been granted under Part VIII or under the Succession Certificate Act, 1889, or a grant of probate or letters of administration has been made, a curator appointed under this Part shall not exercise any authority lawfully belonging to the holder of the certificate or to the executor or administrator. Section 23, Act VII of 1889. VII of 1889

(2) All persons who have paid debts or rents to a curator authorized by a Court to receive them shall be indemnified, and the curator shall be responsible for the payment thereof to the person who has obtained the certificate, probate or letters of administration, as the case may be.

Curator to give security and may receive remuneration.

197. (1) The District Judge shall take from the curator security for the faithful discharge of his trust, and for rendering satisfactory accounts of the same as hereinafter provided, and may authorize him to receive out of the property such remuneration, in no case exceeding five per centum on the moveable property and on the annual profits of the immoveable property, as the District Judge thinks reasonable. Section 7, Act XIX of 1841.

(2) All surplus money realized by the curator shall be paid into Court, and invested in public securities for the benefit of the persons entitled thereto upon adjudication of the summary suit.

(3) Security shall be required from the curator with all reasonable despatch, and, where it is practicable, shall be taken generally to answer all cases for which the person may be afterwards appointed curator; but no delay in the taking of security shall prevent the Judge from immediately investing the curator with the powers of his office.

Report from Collector where estate includes revenue-paying land.

198. (1) Where the estate of the deceased person consists wholly or in part of land paying revenue to Government, in all matters regarding the propriety of summoning the party in in possession, of appointing a curator, or of nominating individuals to that appointment, the District Judge shall demand a report from the Collector, and the Collector shall thereupon furnish the same: Section 8, Act XIX of 1841

Provided that in cases of urgency the Judge may proceed, in the first instance, without such report.

(2) The Judge shall not be obliged to act in conformity with any such report, but, in case of his acting otherwise than according to such report, he shall immediately forward a statement of his reasons to the High Court, and the High Court, if it is dissatisfied with such reasons, shall direct the Judge to proceed conformably to the report of the Collector.

Institution and defence of suits.

199. The curator shall be subject to all orders of the District Judge regarding the institution or the defence of suits, and all suits may be instituted or defended in the name of the curator on behalf of the estate: Section 9, Act XIX of 1841.

Provided that an express authority shall be requisite in the order of the curator's appointment for the collection of debts or rents; but such express authority shall enable the curator to give a full acquittance for any sums of money received by virtue thereof.

Allowances to apparent owners pending custody by curator

200. Pending the custody of the property by the curator, the District Judge may make such allowances to parties having a prima facie right thereto as upon a summary investigation of the rights and circumstances of the parties interested he considers necessary, and may, at his discretion, take security for the repayment thereof with interest, in the event of the party being found, upon the adjudication of the summary suit, not to be entitled thereto. Section 10, Act XIX of 1841

Accounts to be filed by curator

201. The curator shall file monthly accounts in abstract, and shall, on the expiry of each period of three months, if his administration lasts so long, and upon giving up the possession of the property, file a detailed account of his administration to the satisfaction of the District Judge. (2) If it is found that the accounts of the curator are in arrear or that they are erroneous or incomplete, or if the curator does not produce them whenever he is ordered to do so by the District Judge, he shall be punishable with fine not exceeding one thousand rupees for every such default.

Bar to appointment of second curator for same property

203. If the Judge of any district has appointed a curator, in respect of the whole of the property of a deceased person, such appointment shall preclude the Judge of any other district within the same province from appointing any other curator, but the appointment of a curator in respect of a portion of the property of the deceased shall not preclude the appointment within the same province of another curator in respect of the residue or any portion thereof: Section 13, Act XIX of 1841

Provided that no Judge shall appoint a curator or entertain a summary suit in respect of property which is the subject of a summary suit previously instituted under this Part before another Judge:

Provided, further, that, if two or more curators are appointed by different Judges for several parts of an estate, it shall be lawful for the High Court to make such order as it thinks fit for the appointment of one curator of the whole property.

Bar to enforcement of Part against public settlement or legal directions by deceased

205. Nothing in this Part shall be deemed to authorize the contravention of any public act of settlement or of any legal directions given by a deceased proprietor of any property for the possession of his property after his decease in the event of minority or otherwise, and, in every such case, as soon as the Judge having Jurisdiction over the property of a deceased person is satisfied of the existence of such directions, he shall give effect thereto. Section 15, Act XIX of 1841

Section 16, Act XIX of 1841

Saving of right to bring regular suit

207. Nothing contained in this Part shall be any impediment to the bringing of a regular suit either by the party whose application may have been rejected before or after the summoning of the party in possession, or by the party who may have been evicted from the possession under this Part. Section 17, Act XIX of 1841.

Effect of decision of summary suit.

208. The decision of a District Judge in a summary suit under this Part shall have no other effect than that of settling the actual possession; but for this purpose it shall be final, and shall not be subject to any appeal or review. Section 18, Act XIX of 1841

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to consolidate the Indian law relating to succession. The separate existence on the Statute-book of a number of large and important enactments renders the present law difficult of ascertainment and there is, therefore, every justification for an attempt to consolidate it.

The Bill has been prepared by the Statute Law Revision Committee as a purely consolidating measure. No intentional change of the law has, therefore, been made. The details of the Bill are more particularly discussed in the attached Notes on Clauses.

A. P. MUDDIMAN,

President, Statute Law Revision Committee.

Dated 21st July, 1923.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 2.—The General Clauses Act, 1897 (X of 1897), will apply to the Bill. The definitions therefore of "person", "year", "month", "immoveable property", "moveable property", "Local Government" and "High Court" are unnecessary and are omitted. The definitions of "British India" and "District Judge" have also been omitted as the definitions in the General Clauses Act appear more suitable and do not change the substance of the law. The definition of "province" has been omitted, as, notwithstanding the ruling in 12 W. R., 424, it does not appear that the omission will lead to any administrative inconvenience. The definition of "minor" and "minority" is adopted from section 3 of the Probate and Administration Act, 1881 (V of 1881), and seems appropriate to the consolidated Bill. No change has been made in the other definitions which are taken from Act X of 1865, though one or two could perhaps have been more suitably worded. The definition of "Indian Christian" is taken from the Native Christian Administration of Estates Act, 1901 (VII of 1901), except that the phrase "Indian Christian" has been used instead of "Native Christian" following the modern practice in this respect.

Clause 3.—This is based on section 332 of the Indian Succession Act, 1865 (X of 1865), but in the consolidated Bill it is necessary to confine its operation to those provisions which are derived from that Act. The use of the term "exempted person" is a drafting device which enables the language of the Bill to be shortened.

Clause 4.—The second proviso to this clause is taken from the last paragraph of section 2 of the Married Woman's Property Act, 1874 (III of 1874). This provision comes in appropriately here, and it is proposed to repeal the corresponding provision in the Act in question.

Clause 5.—It is well settled that the word "Hindu" in section 331 of the Indian Succession Act, 1865, and in section 2 of the Probate and Administration Act, 1881, includes Jainas and Sikhs (cf. 1. L. R. 31 Cal. 11, etc.) and as the Hindu Wills Act, 1870, which the Bill consolidates makes special mention of Sikhs and Jainas, they are separately mentioned throughout the Bill. This and other similar sections may need to be qualified if and when the Special Marriage (Amendment) Bill, which has just been passed by the Indian Legislature, becomes law.

Clauses 6 to 20 deal with domicile and are reproductions of the corresponding sections of the Act of 1865. They are for the most part general rules which might well be applicable to all classes, but clause 5 reproducing section 331 of the Act of 1865 excludes their application in the case of Hindus, Muhammadans, Buddhists, Sikhs and Jainas.

Part III deals with intestate succession and is based on the appropriate provisions of the Indian Succession Act, 1865 (X of 1865), and the Parsi Succession Act, 1865 (XXI of 1865).

Clauses 46 to 52 and Schedule II contain special rules as to intestate succession among Parsis.

Clause 53.—The proviso to this clause gives effect to one of the provisions of section 8 of the Parsi Succession Act and taken together with the preceding clauses reproduces the whole of that Act, which it is therefore proposed to repeal.

Part IV deals with testamentary succession.

Clause 56, read with Schedule III, reproduces those provisions of the Hindu Wills Act, 1870 (XXI of 1870), which relate to testamentary succession. Section 187 of the Indian Succession Act, 1865 (X of 1865), as applied by the Hindu Wills Act, has been dealt with in another part of the Bill and will be dealt with under the appropriate clause.

Part V deals with protection of the property of the deceased. It is largely based on the Succession (Property Protection) Act, 1841 (XIX of 1841). This Act was framed under the old system of drafting, and certain slight verbal changes of language have had necessarily been made in introducing its provisions in the consolidated Bill, but reference will be made under the appropriate clauses to all changes which are other than purely verbal.

Clause 196.—This clause is taken from section 23 of the Succession Certificate Act, 1889 (VII of 1889), but which, as it limits the power of the curator, appropriately falls in this Part of the consolidated Bill.

Clause 197.—The words "moveable" and "immoveable" have been substituted for the words "personal" and "real".

Clause 198.—The words "High Court" have been substituted here and in other places in this Part where they occur for the words "Court of Sadar Diwani Adalat".

Clauses 204, 205 and 206.—These clauses have been recast as they are drawn in a form which is no longer employed in modern Acts.

Part VI.—This is an important portion of the Bill which deals with title to the property of the deceased. It is only by separating these provisions of the law that a clear view can be obtained of the requirements of the Indian law as to grants by the Court in the case of the estate of a deceased person. By separating the law in this manner, the consolidation of those provisions of the law relating to probate and grant of administration, which are now contained in the Indian Succession Act, 1865 (X of 1865), and the Probate and Administration Act, 1881 (V of 1881), are rendered possible.

Clause 210.—This reproduces the important section 190 of Act X of 1865, which requires that no right to any part of the property of a person who has died intestate can be established in any Court without letters of administration. The very important qualification which excludes the operation of this section in the case of the intestacy of Hindus, Muhammadans, Buddhists, Sikhs, Jainas and Indian Christians is based on section 331 of Act X of 1865 and section 3 of Act VII of 1901.

Clause 211 reproduces the corresponding important provision in the case of testate succession contained in section 187 of Act V of 1865 with the important qualification provided for by section 331 of Act X of 1865 read with the application of section 187 of Act X of 1865 read with section 2 of the Hindu Wills Act, 1870 (XXI of 1870).

Clause 212 reproduces the provisions of section 4 of the Succession Certificate Act, 1889 (VII of 1889).

Clause 213.—This clause is intended to reproduce the effect of section 152 of the Probate and Administration Act and section 21 of the Succession Certificate Act, and appears to come in appropriately under this Part of the Bill since it deals with the substitution of the title of the grantee for that of the certificate holder.

With reference to this Part of the Bill it will be observed that the arrangement of the clauses brings out very clearly the anomalous position in the Indian law with regard to the requirements of proof of representative title to the property of a deceased person.

Part VII.—The provisions of the Indian law regarding the grant of probate and administration of the assets of a deceased person are to be found in the Indian Succession Act, 1865 (X of 1865), and the Probate and Administration Act, 1881 (V of 1881). Those sections of the Succession Act which deal with representative title have already been disposed of by the preceding Part of the Bill and with those exceptions the provisions of the two Acts on the subject are, with comparatively small differences, identical. This Part of the Bill, therefore, provides in general terms for the administration of the assets of deceased persons of all classes covered by the two Acts in question and provides in its separate clauses such special exceptions which are necessitated in order that the existing law may be reproduced.

Clause 215 reproduces section 179 of Act X of 1865 subject to the proviso in the case of survivorship for those classes of persons who are provided for by section 4 of Act V of 1881.

Clause 218.—As in the case of Hindus, Muhammadans, Buddhists, Sikhs, Jainas and exempted persons, probate can be granted to a married woman without the consent of her husband, the provisions of section 8 of Act V of 1881 are here incorporated with those of section 183 of Act X of 1865.

Clause 223.—Here, again, section 13 of Act V of 1881 is incorporated with section 189 of Act X of 1865 for the same reason.

Clauses 233 and 234.—The right to the grant of administration is dealt with by section 23 of Act V of 1881 and by sections 200 to 207 of Act X of 1865. Clause 233 reproduces the former rule and clause 234 the latter.

Clause 239.—Section 212 of the Act of 1865 uses the word "attorney". Section 28 of the Act of 1881 uses the word "agent". Both words are used in the consolidated Bill.

Clauses 240 and 241.—The same remarks apply as in the case of clause 239.

Clause 242.—In view of the wider scope of the Bill, the language of section 31 of the Act of 1881 has been followed, i.e., the words "had attained his majority" have been substituted for the words "shall have completed the age of 18 years".

Clause 244.—Section 217 of the Act of 1865 does not deal with the case of minors. Section 33 of the Act of 1881 does. As it appears to be merely casus omissus and the provision is in accordance with actual practice, the language of section 33 of the Act of 1881 has been adopted.

Clause 246.—The same remarks apply as in the case of clauses 240 and 241.

Clause 247.—Curiously enough both section 36 of the Act of 1881 and section 226 of the Act of 1865 use the word "attorney". It would appear a drafting slip in the Act of 1881 and the words "or agent" have been added.

Clause 248.—The language of section 37 of the Act of 1881 has been adopted, but there is no change in the substance.

Clause 262.—The proviso incorporates the provisions of section 2 of the Act of 1881.

Clause 267.—Sub-section (2) incorporates the provision of section 3 of Act VII of 1901 and as the provision is not incorporated in the Act of 1881, it excludes the persons to whom that Act relates from the purview of the clause.

Clause 274.—The law to be reproduced is contained in section 244 of the Act of 1865 and section 62 of the Act of 1881. The latter Act, however, contains the additional words "or for letters of administration with will annexed" and also the words "or in the cases mentioned in sections 24, 25 and 26 a copy, draft or statement of the contents thereof". The provisions of the Act of 1881 seem necessary to complete the law, and they have been adopted mutatis mutandis in the clause.

Clause 275.—Similarly the words "copy of draft", which only occcur in section 63 of the Act of 1881, have been adopted.

Clause 276.—This clause is based on section 246 of the Act of 1865 and section 64, Act V of 1881. Here again there is a discrepancy between the two sections. Under section 246 a petition must state that the deceased left some property within the jurisdiction of the District Judge or District Delegate to whom the application is made. Under section 64 in the case of an application to a District Judge the petition must state either that the deceased at the time of his death had a fixed place of abode or had some property situate within the jurisdiction of the Judge. The Bill follows the language of section 246. As a slight change in the law is involved attention is drawn to the point, and similarly to the fact that the words "a fixed place of abode" are used in the Bill in this clause also in order that the wording of the clause may be consistent with the wording of clause 274. Furthermore, although section 244 requires in the case of an application to a District Judge that the petition should state that the deceased had "his fixed place of abode" within the jurisdiction of the Judge, that section in the case of an application to a District Delegate requires that the petition shall state that the deceased "resided" within the jurisdiction of the Delegate. This discrepancy is apparently explained by the fact that the paragraph was inserted by the District Delegates Act, 1881 (VI of 1881). Section 62 on the contrary uses the phrase "fixed place of abode" in both places. It seems doubtful whether it is necessary to maintain the discrepancy in the language of section 244 and the Bill uses "fixed place of abode" in both places, but it seems that attention should be drawn to the point.

Clause 289.—The proviso embodies the different rules provided by section 78 of the Act of 1881.

Clause 295.—This reproduces section 353 of Act X of 1865 and section 157 of Act V of 1881 which are in identical terms. These sections were added in their respective Acts by section 17 of Act VI of 1889 and are obviously out of position in those Acts.

Clause 299.—The proviso embodies the provisions in that behalf in section 2 of Act V of 1881.

Clause 302.—This clause is necessary as the provisions of the Act of 1865 relating to "executors of their own wrong" were not included in the Act of 1881.

Clause 305.—The wording of section 88 of the Act of 1881 has been adopted. It is more in consonance with the language of the Indian draftsman and involves no change of substance.

Clause 307.—Sub-section (2) reproduces the provisions of section 90 of the Act of 1881 which were inserted in that Act by section 11 of Act VI of 1890.

Clause 311.—The words "In the absence of any directions to the contrary in the will or grant of letters of administration" which occur in section 93 of the Act of 1881 have been adopted in the clause as they appear to state the law more accurately.

Clause 316.—The wording of section 97 of the Act of 1881 has been followed as it is more suitable to the wider scope of the consolidated Bill and involves no change of substance.

Clause 324.—This reproduces section 283 of the Act of 1865. Neither this section nor section 284 has a corresponding provision in the Act of 1881. Sub-clause (3), therefore excludes from the operation of the clause those to whom the Act of 1881 applies.

Clause 327.—Here, again, the wording of section 107 of the Act of 1881 has been adopted as it states the law more accurately.

Clause 332.—This corresponds to section 292 of the Act of 1865 which is the first section in Part XXXV of that Act which is headed "Of the Executor's Assent to a Legacy". This at once raises the question of section 148 of the Act of 1881. That section runs as follows: "In Chapters VIII, IX, X and XII of this Act the provisions as to an executor shall apply also to an administrator with the will annexed." These Chapters deal with (1) the executor's assent to a legacy, (2) the payment and apportionment of annuities, (3 the investment of funds to provide for legacies and (4) the refunding of legacies. They correspond to Parts XXXV, XXXVI, XXXVII and XXXIX of the Act of 1865, but that Act contains no specific provision of the kind contained in section 148. To take the first question, the executor's assent to a legacy, it would seem that the executor and the administrator with the will annexed are in exactly the same position. The reason the assent of the executor is necessary is that the estate of the deceased is vested in the executor and the legatee's title to the legacies is only inchoate. Equally this is true of the administrator with the will annexed. It would seem, therefore, that under the Indian Succession Act the assent of an administrator with the will annexed to a legacy is probably necessary though no specific provision exists. It is well settled law in England that this is so, see Doe versus Mobberley, 6 C. and P. 126, Broker versus Charter, Cro. Eliz. 92. Similarly the other provisions specifically mentioned in section 148 appear to be applicable to cases under the Indian Succession Act. The Bill has been drafted to give effect to this view by specific amendments.

Clause 345.—This reproduces section 305 of the Act of 1865, but as the provision does not occur in the Act of 1881, the proviso inserted is necessary.

Clause 360.—This clause reproduces section 320 of the Act of 1865 and section 139 of the Act of 1881. It would be preferable if the wording of section 139 had been adopted, but this would involve a slight change in the law.

Clause 370 is based on section 1 (4) of the Succession Certificate Act, 1889 (VII of 1889), with the exception in the proviso which is based on section 5 of Act VII of 1901. The effect of the section here reproduced is apparently that succession certificate cannot be granted in a case where the law requires probate or letters of administration to establish a representative title before the Court. In cases where letters of administration or probate are not essential, i.e., cases falling within the Act of 1881, a certificate can apparently be granted. The clause is based on this view of the law.

Clause 371.—In this clause and the rest of this Part, the words "District Judge" have been used in order to assimilate this Part to the rest of the Bill.

2. In supervising and controlling this important measure for the protection of public health and property, the Commission during the year under review held 12 meetings. The inspectorial staff for the last three years has been under the sanctioned strength, and this has to some extent reduced the activities of the Commission. As detailed in the Appendix, up to 1920 there was a steady reduction of controlled smoke. In that year the average emission was 1·22 minutes in the hour, the lowest ever attained. In 1921 it had risen to 1·6 minutes. This year it is 1·68 minutes in the hour. The Commissioners are confident that but for the shortness of staff a continued reduction of smoke would have been maintained. Nevertheless a considerable amount of good work has been done as will presently be apparent as the year's work is passed under review

3. The Chief and Assistant Inspectors made 9,856 smoke observations as against 8,254, and the number of visits to factories, etc., for instruction and test was 3,552 against 3,122 for the previous year.

4. The co-operation of owners is essential to secure a reduction of the smoke nuisance. This was generally cordially given and their assistance is appreciated. During the year 1,678 offences were reported to them for their departmental action, against 1,107 for the previous year, and 707 for the year before that, and the Commissioners gratefully acknowledge that this was almost always taken at once. But with some owners it was found to be impossible to make any improvement unless by exercising the powers conferred under the Act. Statutory warnings were served in 27 cases as against 8, and prosecutions in 7 cases comprising 4 factories, 1 blacksmith shop and 2 bhunja shops were instituted as against 9 in the previous year.

5. In dealing with the destructive smoke caused by the illicit manufacture of coke by the partial burning of raw coal in open heaps, the Commissioners took what action was possible under the Act. Warnings were served on 17 landowners upon whose ground the coke was made. The police were authorized to take action under the Act in 8 cases, and the landowners in 2 cases.

6. The public continue to apply freely for relief to the Commissioners. During the year under review 50 complaints were received and relief was given where possible. In addition to these, many references were received from the various municipalities which in many cases necessitated careful tests.

In a complaint regarding the smoke, soot and ashes from the chimneys of the Central Power Station owned by the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, Limited, no immediate action could be taken as regards the smoke from the heavily over-loaded boilers which, as the owners state, will be brought within the normal limits when the additional boilers now being installed are brought into commission. But, as regards the discharge of grit and cinders the matter was taken up with the owners, who are voluntarily fitting grit and cinder catchers, the general principles of which have been approved by the Commissioners, at a cost of about Rs. 60,000 to 8 new chimneys serving over 30,000 horse. It is estimated that these catchers should reduce the daily discharge of grit and ashes from the chimneys by over 5 tons.

7. Two stokers were granted certificates of competency, as against one for the previous year. The highest number of certificates granted was 43 in 1919. In smoke abatement and fuel economy qualified stokers are of great importance, but unfortunately the shortage of the staff prevented examination of more stokers in the year under review, though the Inspectors continued to train as many stokers in the mills as before.

8. Efficient smoke abatement and fuel economy are synonymous But in some of the local old fashioned plants, for obvious reasons, smoke abatement and fuel economy appear to be impossible to achieve. During the year a large firm replaced several wasteful installations, in which it was practically impossible to prevent excessive smoke, with a modern central station fitted with fuel and water meters. The result has been the abolition of smoke, a great reduction in fuel and a general financial justification for the scheme.

Another large firm has a power station in which it was not possible to keep within the smoke limits and invited inspection and suggestions. The flues, chimney, etc., proved to be ample for reasonable requirements. But a test under working conditions revealed that the steam plant was using more steam than the boilers could reasonably supply. After completing the overhaul of the steam plant the smoke was reduced to reasonable limits, with a saving of 20 per cent. in fuel.

9. In unsuitable or badly proportioned plants it is practically impossible, with reasonable efforts, to prevent excessive black smoke. Supreme efforts may for a time secure compliance with the ordinary smoke regulations. Such efforts being associated with increased fuel consumption and endless worry, smoke abatement is looked upon as an unreasonable interference with legitimate industrial endeavour. But it is often forgotten that the more far-sighted view is to make suitable and properly proportioned plants a basic factor of the general policy, for this makes efficient smoke abatement profitable to the owners.

During the year the Commissioners examined, approved or rejected 89 plans of installations. This is the greatest number dealt with so far and includes practically every class of industrial furnace. In addition to this the advice and assistance of the Commission were sought by owners outside the controlled area and from other provinces.

10. Reference was made last year to the fact that, owing to economic circumstances, paddy husks, which hitherto had been useless and difficult to get rid of, had to be used as fuel in place of coal in the boiler furnaces of the rice mills. There was nothing in the actual burning of the paddy husk, but unless means could be provided for stopping the discharge of clouds of light charred husk from the chimneys the surrounding localities would be ruined for residential purposes. The Commissioners were in a difficult position, as the penalties under the Act were not sufficient to prevent the use of the husk. They decided to permit its use provided the public interests were safeguarded as far as practicable.

The paddy husk produced in the mills is difficult to deal with as, in the process of milling, the husk is broken up and has a large proportion of fine powder. The joint endeavours of the owners and the department has produced an apparatus, which, in the latest and improved types, works satisfactorily. About half the rice mills have been provided with this apparatus. The Commissioners are devoting careful attention to this question and every endeavour is being made to induce the remaining owners to introduce this apparatus. The local resources were insufficient to supply in time all the furnace requirements, particularly in some of the accessories, without which the results are adversely affected. Rice milling being a seasonal trade, some of the older types of furnaces were permitted to work forthis season. The Commissioners hope to have matters improved at the stoppage preceding the next season.

In the controlled area 10 mills have been fitted with paddy husk arrangements, and outside the area 10 mills have been so fitted. The general results show the smoke from paddy husk will be very much less and the outturn from the boilers much more than from coal burners. In a few of the later type the chimneys have been free from smoke for some months.

The matter was primarily taken up to protect the public from the smoke nuisance, but, apart from this, it effects far-reaching economic results. Assuming that all rice mills use paddy husk—which is a likely prospect—amongst other advantages, there should be an annual saving of about 100,000 tons of coal representing about 15 lakhs of rupees. The public, who use machine cleaned rice, ultimately get the benefit of the reduced cost of rice, and in a family of 10 members the annual rice bill should be reduced by about Rs. 4 per annum.

11. Electric and gas installations should be encouraged as permanent remedies for atmospheric pollution caused by smoke. During the year approximately 9,100 horse power were connected to the high and low tension systems of the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation. They state that by about the coming June the extension to their power station will be so far completed as to enable them to supply current to all applicants. The Commission have granted temporary permission for the use of a number of small smoky power chimneys. These will be abolished as current becomes available.

In the conservation of public health and property there is a wild field for the application of smokeless gas appliances for industrial efforts and domestic fireplaces. As the use of raw coal instead of coke in domestic fireplaces is steadily increasing the installation of gas appliances is becoming more important. The Oriental Gas Company state that during the year 1,131 gas appliances were connected to their gas mains. As they also state a very pleasing feature in connection with the work of the Company has been the continued and steadily growing demand for gas heated appliances for cooking and water heating in a large residential buildings recently erected in the city. They mention 2 large buildings in Park Street in which 82 gas cooking ranges and 76 gas geysers have been installed.

The Commissioners are gratified at this, as if these two large buildings had used coal there would every month have been a discharge of over half a ton of soot into the atmosphere. This shows that as a whole the damage caused by domestic smoke is very great, and that the controlling authorities, in the public interests, should encourage the introduction of gas appliances for such purposes.

12. The abatement of the smoke nuisance and the reduction of atmospheric pollution vitally concerns the city community. The Smokeless City (1922), by Simon and Fitzgerald, with a preface by Lord Newton, gives an account of the damage caused by smoke to health and to property. They state that in the city of Manchester it is estimated that the annual damage due to smoke amounts to over one million pounds sterling, and a certificate, in 1919, from a leading firm of accountants shows that, on a very conservative basis, the cost of household washing could be reduced by about a quarter of a million sterling if Manchester had the atmosphere of a clean city.

13. In Calcutta, generally, the atmosphere is comparatively cleaner than that usually associated with an industrial and shipping centre. But it should be remembered what it was 17 years ago when preventive work was initiated and when every chimney could pollute the atmosphere without let or hindrance. And that since then the number of mills have doubled, and most likely the future will bring a further increase. The following extract from a recent complaint regarding an area containing over 100 mills —the number of which is rapidly increasing and regarding which every endeavour is being made to improve matters—shows what the conditions would be throughout the controlled area were it not for the beneficent, preventive powers exercised by the Commissioners :—"They are projecting large quantities of dense black smoke daily which is a source of much annoyance to myself and the members of this club * * * * new chimneys have been erected recently which contribute to the volume of smoke and conditions are becoming unbearable. I would strongly urge upon you the necessity for immediate action."

14. The Commission desire to record their appreciation of the excellent work done by Mr. Robson and his assistant during the year.

J. ROBSON,
Secretary.

President.

Summary.—The rainfall during the week was light to moderate. More rain is needed for the transplantation of winter paddy seedlings and for the growth of standing crops generally. Harvesting of autumn paddy and jute is well advanced, but difficulty is being felt for the steeping of jute owing to lowness of flood-level. The average price of common rice for the province has risen by about 0·85 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

Act III of 1884, s. 321.]

(c) that the rate shall not without the sanction of the Local Government be levied at more than seven per centum on the annual value of any holding. [Cf. Ben Act III of 1884, s. 321.]

(2) The Commissioners at a meeting at their discretion may compound for any period not exceeding one year with the person liable to pay the rate on any railway premises or on any premises used as a mill, factory, dockyard, workshop, cooly-depôt, school, hospital, market, court-house or other similar place for a certain sum to be paid by such person in lieu of the rate or, in the case of such premises or places, may in lieu of levying the rate on the annual value of the holding levy it at a certain amount per head, to be fixed by the Commissioners at a meeting, on the number of persons living within or habitually resorting to such premises or places. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, ss. 325 and 326.]

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in this section, any person otherwise liable to pay the rate on any railway premises or on any premises used as a mill, factory, dockyard, workshop or the like may, from year to year by application to the Commissioners, require that the rate shall be levied on such premises at a percentage not exceeding one-fourth of the percentage fixed under sub-section (1), provided that he proves to the satisfaction of the Commissioners that all latrines and urinals on such premises are served, cleansed and kept in a satisfactory condition by an establishment maintained at his own cost, and that the sewage therefrom undergoes such treatment at his cost, by means of septic tanks or other similar works constructed to the satisfaction of the Commissioners, as to render the effluent innocuous and inoffensive and capable of being discharged into the municipal drains, and the Commissioners shall levy such rate accordingly :

Provided that the exemption from paying the full rate conferred under this sub-section shall terminate in the event of the Commissioners providing an underground sewerage system.

Power to call for list of occupants of holdings.

115. The Commissioners may, for the purposes of conservancy, or for the levy of the conservancy rate, by a notice in writing, require the owner or occupier of any holding to furnish, within a time to be specified in the notice, a list of the number of persons living within, or habitually resorting to, such holding. [cf. Bom. Act III of 1884, ss. 333, 334.]

Power to impose consolidated rate.

116. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing sections, the Commissioners may, for the purpose of assessing, levying or collecting, but not for the purpose of imposing or granting exemption from, the rates described in clauses (a), (b), (c) and (d) of sub-section (1) of section 111, consolidate any two or more of such rates which are imposed upon holdings and levy a consolidated rate on the annual valuation of holdings : [cf. U. P. Act II of 1916, s. 138.]

Provided that in any register or assessment list relating to a consolidated rate and used for the purpose of informing any person of his liability thereunder, or for the purpose of securing compliance with the provisions of section 113 or section 114, the Commissioners shall apportion the consolidated rate amongst the several rates comprised therein, so as to show approximately the amount assessed or collected on account of each separate rate.

(2) Such consolidated rate shall be payable in such proportions by the owners and occupiers of holdings as the Commissioners at a meeting, with the approval of the Local Government, may determine.

Deductions required by exemptions.

117. (1) In assessing a consolidated rate, effect shall be given to any partial or total exemption from any single rate comprised therein. [cf. U. P. Act II of 1916, s. 139.]

(2) Such effect shall be given—

(a) in the case of a partial exemption, by means of the deduction from the total amount of the consolidated rate which would otherwise be leviable or assessable in respect of any holdings to which the exemption applies, of a proportionate part, corresponding to the exemption, of the amount which might otherwise have been assessed on account of the single rate ; and

(b) in the case of a total exemption, by means of the deduction from such total amount of the whole amount assessed on account of the single rate in respect of which exemption has been granted.

Assessment of rates on the annual value of holdings.

Annual value of holdings.

118. (1) The annual value of a holding shall be deemed to be the gross annual rental at which the holding may reasonably be expected to let. [Cf. Ben Act III of 1884, s. 101.]

(2) If such gross annual rental cannot, in the opinion of the assessor, be easily estimated or ascertained, the annual value of such holding shall be deemed to be an amount which may be equal to, but may not exceed, seven-and-a-half per centum on the actual cost of erection of the building or buildings erected on such holding plus a reasonable ground rent for the land comprised in the holding :

Provided that, where the actual cost so ascertained exceeds one lakh of rupees, the percentage on the annual value to be levied in respect of so much of the cost as is in excess of one lakh of rupees shall not exceed one-fourth of the percentage determined by the Commissioners under section 123.

(3) The value of any machinery or furniture which may be on a holding shall not be taken into consideration in estimating the annual value of such holding under this section.

(4) The Local Government may direct that the proviso to sub-section (2) shall not have effect in any municipality which they may name in this behalf.

Power of Commissioners to decide questions arising out of the definition of "holding".

119. For the purpose of, and subject to, clause (22) of section 3— [New.]

(a) if a question arises whether any land is included within one holding, the decision thereof shall rest with the Commissioners at a meeting;

(b) the Commissioners at a meeting shall determine what class of ownership shall be accepted as the test for determining whether lands within a municipality are held under one title or agreement ; and the decision of the Commissioners shall be final.

Taxes by whom payable.

120. Except as otherwise provided by this Act, any rate which is assessed on the annual value of a holding shall be payable by the owner of the holding. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, ss. 103, 286 and 822.]

Preparation of valuation list.

121. When it has been decided to impose any rate to be assessed on the annual value of holdings, the assessor, after making such inquiries as may be necessary, shall determine the annual value of all holdings within the municipality in the manner provided in this chapter, and shall enter such value in a valuation list. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, ss. 96, 101.]

Returns required for ascertaining annual value.

122. (1) The assessor, in order to prepare the valuation list, may, whenever he thinks fit, by notice require the owners or occupiers of all holdings to [Cf. Bon. Act III of 1884, s. 99.]

furnish him with returns of the rent or annual value thereof and a description of the holdings containing such particulars as the assessor may direct; and the assessor, or any person authorized by him in writing in that behalf, may enter, inspect and measure any such holding at any time between sunrise and sunset:

Provided that at least twenty-four hours' previous notice of the intention to enter, inspect and measure any holding shall be given to the occupier thereof, unless he waives his right to such notice.

(2) Whoever refuses or fails to furnish any such return or description for the space of one week from the day on which he has been required to do so, or knowingly furnishes a false or incorrect return or description, shall be liable to fine as provided in this Act. [Cf. Ben Act III of 1884, s. 100]

Determination of percentage of rate on holdings

123. Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Commissioners, at a meeting to be held before the close of the year next preceding the year to which the rate will apply, shall determine the percentage on the valuation of holdings at which any rate on the annual value of holdings shall be levied, and the percentage so fixed shall remain in force until the order of the Commissioners determining such percentage shall be rescinded, and until the Commissioners at a meeting shall determine some other percentage on the valuation of holdings at which the rate will be levied from the beginning of the next year: [Cf. Ben Act III of 1884, s. 102]

Provided that, when this Act is first extended to any place, the first rate or rates shall be levied from the beginning of the quarter next after that in which the percentage has been fixed by the Commissioners at a meeting:

Provided further that, where the amount standing to the credit of the Commissioners in the Municipal Fund in any municipality is, in the opinion of the Local Government, insufficient to meet the liabilities of the Commissioners, no decrease shall be made in the percentage of any rate levied by them without the previous sanction of the Local Government.

Preparation of assessment list

124. As soon as possible after the percentage at which the rate or rates shall be levied for the next year has been determined under section 123, the Commissioners shall cause to be prepared by the assessor an assessment list, which shall contain the following particulars and any others which the Commissioners may think proper to include:— [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 103]

(a) the name of the street in which the holding is situated;

(b) the number of the holding on the register;

(c) a description of the holding;

(d) the annual value of the holding;

(e) the name of the owner and occupier;

(f) the amount of rate payable for the year (each rate to be shown separately unless consolidated);

(g) the amount of quarterly instalment;

(h) if the holding is exempted from assessment, a note to that effect.

(Chapter V.—Municipal taxation.—Clauses 125-126.)

Revision and duration of the list.

125. (1) A new valuation and assessment list shall ordinarily be prepared, in the same manner as the original lists, once in every five years. [Cf. U. P. Act II of 1916, s. 115; Bom. Act III of 1884, ss. 97, 322.]

(2) Subject to any alteration or amendment made under section 126 and to the result of any application under section 136 every valuation and assessment entered in a valuation or assessment list shall be valid from the date on which the list takes effect in the municipality and until the first day of April next following the preparation of a new list.

Amendment and alteration of list.

126. (1) The Commissioners may at any time alter or amend the assessment list— [Cf. U. P. Act II of 1916, s. 147.]

(a) by entering therein the name of any person or any property which in their opinion ought to have been entered, or any property which has become liable to taxation after the authentication of the assessment list under section 135; or [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 108.]

(b) by substituting therein for the name of the owner or occupier of any holding the name of any other person who has succeeded by transfer or otherwise to the ownership or occupation of the holding; or [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 109.]

(c) by enhancing the valuation of, or assessment on, any holding which in their opinion has been incorrectly valued or assessed by reason of fraud, misrepresentation or mistake; or [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 108.]

(d) by re-valuing or re-assessing any holding, the value of which has been increased by additions or alterations to buildings; or [Cf. Ben Act III of 1884, s. 108.]

(e) where the percentage on the annual value at which any rate is to be levied has been altered by the Commissioners under the provisions of section 123, by making a corresponding alteration in the amount of rate payable in each case; or [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 97A.]

(f) by reducing, upon the application of the owner or occupier, the valuation of any holding which has been wholly or partly demolished or destroyed, or the value of which has been diminished from any cause beyond the control of the owner or occupier, the operation of which could not have been prevented with due precaution; or [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 107.]

(g) by correcting any clerical or arithmetical error.

(2) The Commissioners shall give at least one month's notice to any person interested of any alteration which the Commissioners propose to make under clauses (a), (b), (c) or (d) of sub-section (1) and of the date on which the alteration will be made.

(3) The provisions of sections 136 to 139 applicable to objections shall, so far as may be, apply to any objection made in pursuance of a notice issued under sub-section (2) and to any application made under clause (f) of sub-section (1).

(4) Every alteration made under sub-section (1) shall be signed by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman and subject to the result of an application under section 136, shall take effect from the beginning of the quarter next following that in which the alteration was made, but the Commissioners by such alteration shall not be deemed to have made a new or revised assessment list. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, ss. 97A, 108 and 109.]

Conclusiveness of entries in list.

127. An entry in an assessment list shall be conclusive proof— [Cf. U. P. Act II of 1916 s. 146.]

(a) for any purpose connected with a rate or rates to which the list refers, of the amount leviable in respect of any holding during the period to which the list relates, and

(b) for the purpose of assessing any other municipal rate, of the annual value of any holding during the said period.

Power to assess building and lands together, where land is let on a building lease.

128. (1) If any house belongs to one owner and the land on which it stands and any adjacent land which is usually occupied therewith belongs to another, the Commissioners may treat such house and land as a single holding and assess them to rates accordingly. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 104.]

(2) The total amount of the rate or rates shall be payable by the owner of the house, who shall thereafter be entitled to deduct from the rent which he pays for the land such proportion of the rate or rates so paid by him as is equal to the proportion which such rent bears to the annual value of the holding.

(3) In case of dispute the Commissioners shall determine what amount the owners of the house and of the land shall pay respectively and the decision of the Commissioners shall be final.

Power to reduce rates in cases of excessive hardship.

129. Whenever, from the circumstances of the case, the levy of a rate or rates on any holding in the municipality would be productive of excessive hardship to the person liable to pay the same, the Commissioners at a meeting may reduce the amount payable on account of such holding, or may remit the same: [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 106.]

Provided that such reduction or remission shall not, unless renewed by the Commissioners at a meeting, have effect for more than one year. [New.]

Remission or refund on account of vacant holdings.

130. (1) When any holding has been unoccupied and unproductive of rent for sixty or more consecutive days the Commissioners shall remit, and if the rate or rates have been paid, shall refund three quarters of the amount due on account of such period: [Cf. Ben Act III of 1884, ss. 110, 282 and 283; Pun Act III of 1911, s. 72.]

Provided that—

(i) the person liable to pay the rate or rates or his agent has given to the Commissioners notice in writing of the vacancy and that the application for refund is made within six months from the date on which such notice is delivered at the office of the Commissioners; and

(ii) the amount of rate or rates to be remitted or refunded shall not be calculated from any date prior to the date of the delivery of such notice.

(2) When any such holding as aforesaid consists of separate tenements, one or more of which has, or have, been unoccupied and unproductive of rent for any period of not less than sixty consecutive days, the Commissioners may, subject to the proviso to sub-section (1), remit such portion (if any) of the rate or rates, not exceeding three-fourths, as they may think equitable. [Cf. Pun. Act III of 1911, s. 72.]

(3) The burden of proving the facts entitling any person to claim relief under this section shall be upon him.

(4) For the purposes of this section—

(i) neither the presence of a caretaker nor the mere storing in one room of an otherwise unoccupied dwelling-house of the furniture habitually used in it shall constitute occupation of the house, unless such house is maintained as a pleasure resort or as a temporary place of residence for a person ordinarily residing elsewhere, and

(ii) a house shall be deemed productive of rent if let to a tenant who has a continuing right of occupation thereof, whether it is actually occupied by such tenant or not.

Owner to give notice of re-occupation

131. Every person who is the owner of any holding for which a remission or refund of the rate has been made under section 130, shall give notice of the re-occupation of such holding within ten days of such re-occupation. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, ss. 111 and 131.]

Notice to be given to the Chairman of all transfers of title of persons primarily liable to payment of rates

132. (1) Whenever the title to or over any land or building of any person primarily liable for the payment of rates on such property is transferred, both the transferor and the transferee shall, within three months of the registration of the deed of transfer, if it be registered, or if it be not registered, within three months of its execution, or, if no instrument be executed, within three months of the actual transfer, give notice in writing of such transfer to the Chairman. [New]

(2) Every person primarily liable for the payment of rates on any land or building, who transfers his title to or over such property, without giving notice of such transfer to the Chairman, as aforesaid, shall, unless the Commissioners, on grounds of hardship arising out of special circumstances, otherwise direct, in addition to any other liability which he incurs through such neglect, continue liable for the payment of all such rates from time to time payable in respect of the said property until he gives such notice, or until the transfer shall have been recorded in the municipal books.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be held to diminish the liability of the transferee for the said rates or to affect the prior claim of the Commissioners for the recovery of the rates due thereupon and the Commissioners may revise the assessment list as against the transferee with effect from the date on which they are satisfied that the transfer was made.

(Chapter V.—Municipal taxation.—Clauses 133—136.)

[New.]

(2) If there is no person for the time being available for appointment as assessor from among the persons included in the list referred to in sub-section (1) of section 133, the Commissioners at a meeting, or in case of default by the Commissioners, the Local Government, may appoint any person approved by the Local Government on such salary, for such period, and with such establishment as the Commissioners with the approval of the Local Government, or the Local Government in the case of default, may determine.

(3) An assessor appointed by the Local Government under this section shall be paid monthly out of the Municipal Fund such salary and cost of establishment as may be fixed by the Local Government.

Publication of notice of assessments

135. (1) When the assessment list mentioned in section 124 has been prepared or revised, the Chairman shall sign the same, and shall cause it to be deposited in the office of the Commissioners, and shall give public notice of the place where the list may be inspected. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 112.]

(2) In all cases in which any property is for the first time assessed or the assessment is increased, the Chairman shall also give notice thereof to the owner or occupier of the property, if known. [Cf. U. P. Act II of 1916, s. 143(1).]

Application for review.

136. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 113.]

(2) No such application shall be received after one month from the date of publication of the notice required under sub-section (1) of section 135, or the service of the notices required under sub-section (2) of that section or after the expiration of one month from the date of service of the fresh notice of demand for payment at the rate in respect of which the application is made, whichever period shall last expire. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 115.]

(3) Notice of every such application shall be given by the Commissioners to the assessor.

(2) If, when the objection has been finally determined, the previous assessment or valuation is altered, then—

(a) any sum paid in excess shall be refunded or allowed to be set off against any present or future demand of the Commissioners under this Act; and

(b) any deficiency shall be deemed to be an arrear of the rate and recoverable as such.

Recovery of taxes.

Office hours for payment of taxes.

140. By notification to be posted up in their office, the Commissioners shall declare at what hours of each day (not being a Sunday or other recognized holiday) the office shall be open for the receipt of money and the transaction of business. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 117.]

Amount of tax payable, and tax to be paid in advance

141. (1) Unless the amount entered in such lists is subsequently altered by the Commissioners as provided in this Act, the amount entered in the lists the notice relating to which is published under section 135, shall be deemed to be the amount due from any person on account of any rate on the annual value of holdings. In case of such subsequent alteration the amount to which the assessment or rating is so altered shall be deemed to be the amount due. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 118.]

(2) Such rate shall be payable in quarterly instalments and every such instalment shall be deemed to be due on the first day of the quarter in respect of which it is payable. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 822.]

Receipts to be given.

142. For all sums paid on account of any tax, toll, fee or rate under this Act a receipt stating the amount and the tax, toll, fee or rate on account of which is paid shall be given, signed by the tax-collector, or by some other officer authorized by the Commissioners to grant such receipts. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 120.]

(2) If the amount mentioned in such bill is not paid on presentation thereof, a notice of demand in the prescribed form with copy of the bill appended thereto, shall be served on the person liable to pay the same, and such notice of demand may be served at any subsequent time :

Provided that no charge shall be made in respect of the service of such notice.

(3) Such notice shall be signed by the Chairman or an officer authorized by the Commissioners in that behalf, and shall be served by a person authorized to receive payment.

Levy by distress on failure to pay tax, toll, fee or rate.

144. If any person, after service upon him of such bill and notice, does not, within fifteen days of the service of such notice, pay the sum due, either to the Commissioners at their office, or to some person authorized by them to receive the money, or show to the Commissioners sufficient cause for not paying the same, the amount of the arrear due, with costs according to the prescribed scale of fees, may, at any time within six months after the date of service of the said notice, be levied by distress and sale of any movable property belonging to the defaulter, except ploughs, plough-cattle, tools or implements of agriculture or trade, wherever found, or of any movable property belonging to any other person, subject to the same exceptions, which may be found within the holding in respect of which such defaulter is liable to such tax, toll, fee or rate : [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 121.]

Provided that, when the holding in respect of which the default is committed is a place of business and the movable property distrained is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioners to have been left there for repairs or safe custody in the ordinary course of business, it shall be released :

Provided also that, if the said property or any part thereof belongs to any person other than the defaulter, the defaulter shall be liable to indemnify the owner thereof for any damage he may sustain by reason of such distress, or by reason of any payment he may make to avoid such distress or any sale under the same.

Distress how to be made.

(2) Distress shall be made by actual seizure of movable property, and the officer charged with the execution of the warrant shall be responsible for the due custody thereof.

(Chapter V.—Municipal taxation.—Clauses 146—148.)

(3) Such officer shall make in the presence of two witnesses an inventory of all movable property seized under the warrant and shall give not less than ten days' previous notice of the sale, and of the time and place thereof by beat of drum, in the municipality or ward in which the property is seized, and by serving on the defaulter a notice in the prescribed form :

Provided that, if the property is of a perishable nature, it may be sold at once with the consent of the defaulter, or without such consent at any time after the expiry of six hours from the seizure.

Officer may break open door.

146. The officer charged with the execution of the warrant may, under the special order of the Chairman, between sunrise and sunset, break open any outer or inner door or window of a house, in order to make the distress, if he has reasonable ground for believing that such house contains any movable property belonging to the defaulter, and if, after notification of his authority and purpose and demand of admittance duly made he cannot otherwise obtain admittance : [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 123.]

Provided that he shall not enter or break open the door of any room appropriated to women, except, after sufficient notice and opportunity given to enable the women to remove to some part of the premises where their privacy may be preserved.

Sale how to be conducted.

147. (1) If the sum due be not paid with costs before the time fixed for the sale, or if the warrant be not discharged or suspended by the Commissioners, the movable property seized shall be sold by auction, at the time and place specified, in the most public manner possible, and the proceeds shall be applied in discharge of the arrears and costs. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 124.]

(2) The surplus sale-proceeds (if any) shall be credited to the Municipal Fund, and may be paid on demand to any person who establishes his right to the satisfaction of the Commissioners or in a court of competent jurisdiction.

(3) The tax-collector or other officer authorized in that behalf shall make a return of all such sales to the Commissioners in the prescribed form.

Sale of property beyond limits of municipality.

148. If the Commissioners are unable to recover under section 147 the sum due with costs, the Magistrate may, on the application of the Commissioners, issue his warrant to any officer of his court for the distress and sale of any movable property or effects belonging to the defaulter within any other part of the jurisdiction of the Magistrate, or for the distress and sale of any movable property belonging to the defaulter within the jurisdiction of any other Magistrate exercising jurisdiction within Bengal, and such other Magistrate shall endorse the warrant so issued, and cause it to be executed and the amount, if levied, to be remitted to the Magistrate issuing the warrant, who shall remit the same to the Commissioners. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 127.]

(Chapter V.—Municipal taxation.—Clauses 149—155.)

Commissioners to keep account of distresses and sales.

Power to Commissioners to bring suits in place of distress.

150. Instead of proceeding by distress and sale, or in case of failure to realize thereby the whole or any part of any tax, toll, fee or rate the Commissioners may sue the person liable to pay the same in any court of competent jurisdiction. [Cf. Ben Act III of 1884, s. 129.]

Certain persons prohibited from purchasing at sales.

152. All Commissioners, municipal officers and servants, and all chaukidars, constables and other officers of police are prohibited from purchasing any property at any sale made under this chapter. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 125.]

Recovery in special cases.

Recovery from occupier of tax due from non-resident owner and deduction from rent.

153. If the sum due from the owner of any holding remains unpaid after the notice of demand has been duly served, and such owner is not resident within the municipality, or the place of abode of such owner is unknown, the same may be recovered from the occupier for the time being of such holding, who may deduct from the next and following payments of his rent, the amount which may be so paid by or recovered from him : [Cf. Ben Act III of 1884, s. 105.]

Provided that no arrear of rate shall be so recovered from the occupier of any holding if it has remained due from the owner thereof for more than one year or if it is due on account of any period during which such occupier was not in occupation of such holding :

Provided also that if any such holding is occupied in severalty by more than one person, the sum recovered from any one of such persons shall not exceed such amount as shall bear to the total sum due the same proportion as the value of the part of the holding in the occupation of such person bears to the entire value of the holding. [Cf. Ben Act III of 1884, s. 323.]

Recovery by owner from tenant of three fourths of certain rates.

154. [Cf. U. P. Act II of 1916, s. 153(f).]

CHAPTER VI.

Streets.

General.

Certain provisions relating to streets to be applied only to certain municipalities.

204. The provisions contained in sections 205 to 208 and in sections 211 to 218 shall not apply to any municipality, unless and until they have been expressly extended thereto by the Local Government on application of the Commissioners at a meeting. [New.]

Building-lines and street alignments for public streets.

Power to Commissioners to prescribe building-line and street alignment.

205. (1) If the Commissioners at a meeting consider it expedient to prescribe for any public street a building-line or a street alignment, or both a building-line and a street alignment, they shall give public notice of their intention to do so: [Cf. C. M. Act, s. 302.]

Provided that no building-line shall ordinarily be prescribed for any street laid out and made before the commencement of this Act.

(2) Every such notice shall specify a period within which objections will be received, and a copy of such notice shall be sent by post to every owner of premises abutting on such street who is registered in respect of such premises on the books of the municipality:

Provided that failure or omission to serve such notice on any owner shall not invalidate proceedings under this section.

(3) The Commissioners shall consider all objections received within the said period and shall hear any objector who comes forward within such period as they may fix in this behalf, and may then make an order prescribing a building-line or a street alignment, or both a building-line and a street alignment, for such public street.

A register or book with plans attached shall be kept by the Commissioners showing all public streets in respect of which a building-line or street alignment has been prescribed, and such register shall contain such particulars as to the Commissioners may appear to be necessary and shall be open to inspection by any person upon payment of such fee as may from time to time be fixed by the Commissioners at a meeting.

(4) A building-line shall not be prescribed so as to extend further back than the main front wall of any building (other than a boundary wall) abutting on the street at its widest part.

(5) Every order made under sub-section (3) shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and shall take effect from the date of such publication.

Restrictions on erection of, or addition to, buildings or walls within street alignment or building-line.

206. (1) No portion of any building or boundary wall shall be erected or added to within a street alignment prescribed under section 205: [Cf. C. M Act, s. 303.]

Provided that the Commissioners at a meeting may, in their discretion, permit additions to a building to be made within a street alignment, if such additions merely add to the height of, and rest upon, an existing building or wall, upon the owner of the building executing, if required to do so by the Commissioners, an agreement binding himself and his successors in interest—

(a) not to claim compensation in the event of the Commissioners at any time thereafter calling upon him or such successors, by written notice, to remove any addition made to any building in pursuance of such permission, or any portion thereof, and

(b) to pay the expenses of such removal.

(2) If the Commissioners refuse to grant the permission applied for to add to any building on the ground that the proposed site falls wholly or in part within a street alignment prescribed under section 205 and if such site, or the portion thereof which falls within such alignment, be not acquired by the Commissioners, within six months after the date of such refusal, they shall pay reasonable compensation to the owner of the site.

(3) No person shall erect or add to any building between a street alignment and the building-line without first obtaining the permission of the Commissioners at a meeting to do so:

Provided that it shall not be necessary to obtain permission under this sub-section to erect, between a street alignment and the building-line,—

(a) a porch or balcony, or,

(b) along not more than one-third of the frontage, an outhouse not exceeding fifteen feet in height.

(4) If the Commissioners grant permission under sub-section (3), they may require the applicant to execute an agreement in accordance with the proviso to sub-section (1).

Power to Commissioners to take possession of, and add to street, land situated within prescribed street alignment or covered by projecting buildings.

207. (1) The Commissioners may at any time after notice to the owner of the land of their intention take possession of— [cf. C. M Act, s. 304; Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 206.]

(a) any land (abutting on a public street) upon which any portion of any building or wall, projecting beyond the front of the adjoining building or wall, which is on either side of such first-mentioned building or wall, has collapsed or been demolished or burnt down, and

(b) any land not covered by buildings (including land on which a building has collapsed or been demolished or burnt down) which is situated within a street alignment prescribed under section 205, after making full compensation to the owner thereof for any direct damage which he may sustain thereby and shall take possession of any land, as specified in clause (b), if the owner thereof calls upon them to do so.

(2) Any land taken possession of under sub-section (1) shall forthwith be added to and become part of the said street, and shall vest in the Commissioners.

Explanation.—The expression "direct damage," as used in sub-section (1) with reference to land, means the market-value of the land taken and the depreciation, if any, in the ordinary market-value of the rest of the land resulting from the area being reduced in size; but does not include damage due to any particular use to which the owner may allege that he intended to put the land, although such use may be injuriously affected by the reduction of the site.

Power to Commissioners to set buildings forward to improve line of public street.

208. The Commissioners at a meeting may, upon such terms as they think fit, allow any building or wall to be set forward for the purpose of improving the line of a public street. [Cf. C. M. Act, s. 305]

Opening, improvement and closing of public streets, squares and gardens.

(b) construct new bridges, causeways, culverts and sub-ways;

(c) turn, divert, or temporarily or permanently close any public street or part thereof, or permanently close any public square or garden;

(d) widen, open, enlarge, or otherwise improve any public street, square or garden;

(e) provide within their discretion building sites of such dimensions as they think fit to abut on, adjoin or obtain access from any public street made, widened, lengthened, extended, enlarged or improved by the Commissioners under clauses (a), (b), (c) or (d) or by the Local Government; [Cf. U. P. Act II of 1916, s. 219 (d); Bom. Act III of 1901, s. 269.] [Cf. supra, ss. 80-81.]

(f) subject to the provisions of any rule made by the Local Government, and prescribing the conditions on which land may be acquired for the Commissioners, obtain, through the Local Government the acquisition of any land, along with the buildings thereon, which they consider necessary for the purposes of any scheme or work undertaken or projected in exercise of the powers conferred by the preceding clauses including purposes of recoupment of the cost of any such scheme or work; and

(g) subject to the provisions of any rule made by the Local Government, and prescribing the conditions on which land vested in the Commissioners may be transferred, lease, sell or otherwise dispose of any land acquired for the Commissioners under clause (f) or any buildings erected thereon or any land used by the Commissioners for a public street, and in doing so impose any condition as to the description of any building to be erected thereon, as to the period within which such building shall be completed, as to the removal of any building existing thereon and as to any other matter that they deem fit.

Power to Commissioners to dispose of so much of a permanently closed street, square or garden as is not required.

210. (1) When any public street, or part thereof, or any public square or garden, is permanently closed under section 209, the Commissioners, in pursuance of a decision arrived at at a meeting may sell or lease the site of so much of the road-way and foot-path as is no longer required, or the site of the square or garden, as the case may be, making due compensation to, or providing means of access for, any person who may suffer damage by such closing. [Cf. C. M. Act, s 307.]

(Chapter VI.—Streets.—Clauses 211—213.)

(2) In determining such compensation allowance shall be made for any benefit accruing to the same premises or any adjacent premises belonging to the same owner from the construction or improvement of any other public street, square or garden at or about the same time that the public street, square or garden on account of which the compensation is paid is closed.

Projected public streets.

Projected public streets.

211. (1) The Commissioners at a meeting may from time to time prepare schemes and plans of projected public streets, showing the direction of such streets, the street alignment and building-line on each side of them, their intended width and such other details as may appear desirable. [Cf. C. M Act, s. 808.]

(2) The width of such projected streets, inclusive of space for foot-paths, shall not be less than forty feet or, in a bustee, twenty feet:

Provided that—

(a) the Commissioners at a meeting may for special reasons reduce the width of any projected street but not so as to be less than thirty feet or, in a bustee, sixteen feet; and

(b) this sub-section shall not apply in any case in which the projected street, or any part thereof, runs along an existing street and the Commissioners consider it impracticable to widen the street to the extent of forty feet or twenty feet, as the case may be.

Provisions of section 206 to apply to projected public streets.

212. The provisions of section 206 shall, with all necessary modifications, apply to public streets projected under section 211. [Cf. C. M. Act, s. 809.]

Special provisions as to private streets.

Making of new private streets.

213. (1) Any person intending to make or lay out a new private street shall send to the Commissioners a written notice, with plans and sections, showing the following particulars of the proposed street, namely:— [Cf. C. M. Act, s. 314.]

(a) the level, width and alignment thereof, and

(b) the arrangements to be made for levelling, paving, metalling, flagging, channelling, sewering, draining and lighting the street.

(2) The provisions of this Act as to the width of public streets and the height of buildings abutting thereon, and as to projected public streets, shall respectively apply in the case of streets referred to in sub-section (1); and all the particulars referred to in that sub-section shall be subject to approval by the Commissioners at a meeting:

Provided that the Commissioners at a meeting may allow a private street to be made or laid out of a width less than forty feet but not less than twenty feet, and, if the street is less than two hundred feet in length, the maximum width of such street may ordinarily be taken to be thirty feet instead of forty feet.

(Chapter VI.—Streets.—Clauses 214—216.)

(3) Within ninety days after the receipt of any notice under sub-section (1) the Commissioners at a meeting shall either sanction the making of the street, or disallow it, or ask for further information with respect to such street.

(4) Such sanction may be refused—

(i) if the proposed street would conflict with any arrangements which have been made, or which are in the opinion of the Commissioners likely to be made within a reasonable period, for carrying out any general scheme of street improvement, or

(ii) if the proposed street does not conform to the provisions of this Act referred to in sub-section (2), or

(iii) if the proposed street is not designed so as to connect at one end with a street which is already open.

(5) If further information is asked for under sub-section (3), no steps shall be taken to make or lay out the street until orders have been passed upon receipt of such information, and such orders shall be passed within ninety days of the receipt of such further information.

(6) If within ninety days after the receipt of any notice under sub-section (1), or within ninety days after the receipt of any further information asked for under sub-section (3), the Commissioners have not refused sanction to the making of the private street, it shall be deemed that sanction to the same has been granted.

Owner's obligation to make a street when disposing of land as building sites.

214. If the owner of any land utilizes, sells, leases or otherwise disposes of such land or any portion or portions of the same as sites for the construction of buildings he shall, except in the case of a site or sites abutting on an existing public or private street, lay down and make a street or streets giving access to the site or sites and connecting with an existing public or private street. [Cf. Mad. Act V of 1920, s. 175.]

Prohibition of breach of section 213.

215. Except as provided in sub-section (6) of section 213, no person shall make or lay out any street referred to in sub-section (1) of section 213— [Cf. C. M. Act, s. 315.]

(a) until he has obtained the sanction of the Commissioners under that section, or

(b) in contravention of any orders made thereunder.

Alteration or demolition of street made in breach of section 213.

216. (1) If any person makes or lays out any street referred to in sub-section (1) of section 213, without having obtained the sanction of the Commissioners under that section, or in contravention of any orders made thereunder, the Commissioners may, whether or not the offender be prosecuted under this Act, by written notice,— [Cf. C. M. Act, s. 316.]

(a) require the offender to show sufficient cause, by a written statement signed by him and sent to the Commissioners on or before such day as may be specified in the notice, why such street should not be altered to their satisfaction or, if such alteration be impracticable, why such street should not be demolished, or

(b) require the offender to appear before them, either personally or by a duly authorized agent, on such day and at such time and place as may be specified in the notice, and show cause as aforesaid.

(2) If any person on whom such notice is served fails to show sufficient cause, to the satisfaction of the Commissioners, why such street should not be so altered or demolished, they may cause the street to be so altered or demolished, and the expenses thereof shall be paid by such person.

Levelling, etc., of private streets.

217. (1) If any private street or any part thereof be not levelled, paved, metalled, flagged, channelled, sewered, drained or lighted to the satisfaction of the Commissioners, they may, by written notice to the owner of such private street or the respective owners of the land fronting, adjoining or abutting upon such street or part, as the case may be, from time to time require them to level, pave, metal, flag, channel, sewer, drain or light such street or part. [Cf. C. M. Act, s. 317.]

(2) If such notice be not complied with and the Commissioners, under sub-section (2) of section 500, execute the works mentioned or referred to therein, the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owner of such private street or the owners in default, in such proportion as may be settled—

(a) by the Commissioners at a meeting, or

(b) in case of dispute, by the Commissioner of the Division.

Power to Commissioners to take over private streets.

218. If any private street which conforms to the provisions of this Act referred to in sub-section (2) of section 213 be levelled, paved, metalled, flagged, channelled, sewered, drained and lighted to the satisfaction of the Commissioners, and if a majority of— [Cf. C. M Act, s 318]

(a) the owners of land or buildings in such street, or

(b) the owners of the street, or

(c) the owners who have paid the expenses referred to in sub-section (2) of section 217, signify in writing their consent thereto, the Commissioners at a meeting shall declare the same, by written notice put up in any part of such street, to be a public street, and thereupon the same shall become a public street and shall vest in the Commissioners:

Provided that, where a private street has been in existence for not less than thirty years and is used by the people of the locality as a thoroughfare, the Commissioners at a meeting may declare such street to be a public street, even though it does not strictly comply with the provisions of this chapter, if—

(a) the owners of the lands and buildings in such street, or

(b) the owners of the street, signify in writing their consent thereto.

Supplemental provisions for regulating and protecting streets.

Duties of Commissioners when constructing public streets, etc.

219. (1) The Commissioners shall, during the construction or repair of a public street or of any water-works, drain or premises vested in them, or whenever any public street, water-works, drain or [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 201 U. P. Act II of 1916, s. 223.]

[Cf. Ben. Act III of 1884, s 285.]

Provided that, no person shall put up a hoarding or fence without the written permission of the Commissioners, nor shall he keep up the said hoarding or fence for a time longer than allowed in the said written permission.

(2) Any person who contravenes the provisions of sub-section (1) or who, without written permission erects or sets up any hoarding, scaffolding or fence whatsoever, or who, being permitted, fails to put up such hoarding, scaffolding or fence or to continue the same standing, or to maintain the same in good condition, or who does not, while such hoarding or fence is standing, keep the same sufficiently lighted during the night; or who does not remove the same within eight days when directed by the Commissioners, shall be liable to fine as provided in this Act.

or if where a notice has been posted up under sub-section (2) the projection, obstruction or encroachment is not removed within the period specified in such notice, the Magistrate may, on the application of the Commissioners, order that the projection, obstruction or encroachment be removed, and thereupon the Commissioners may, notwithstanding anything contained in sections 500 to 504, remove such projection, obstruction or encroachment,

(4) No person shall be entitled to compensation in respect of the removal of any projection, obstruction or encroachment under this section.

Power to Commissioners to remove or alter verandah, etc., or fixtures attached to building which project, etc., over public street or land.

229. (1) When any verândah, platform or other similar structure or any fixture attached to a building so as to form part of the building, whether erected before or after the commencement of this Act, causes a projection, encroachment or obstruction over or on any house-gully or public street or any land vested in the Commissioners they may, by written notice, require the owner or occupier of the building to remove or alter such structure or fixture. [Cf. C. M., Act, s. 299 Ben. Act III of 1884, ss. 204 and 233.]
